Crucial Stage For Thant on Cyprus Crisis

Controversy Over Treaty Provisions Major Obstacle

Another Teacher and 3 Jesuit Brothers Wounded

BY ROBIN MANNOCK
LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP)—A young Belgian teacher died trying to shield a woman fleeing from guerrilla warriors who attacked a Jesuit mission in the Congo's Kwilu province.

Jacques Bollaerts, 25, was shot as he ran for safety Saturday when more than 100 rebels attacked Makunzika Mission, 30 miles south of Kikwit, the provincial capital.

In front of him ran Mrs. Odette Raemackers, wife of another teacher. Bollaerts stumbled but kept moving.

Survivors told of the attack today. Another Belgian teacher, Robert Marechal, 24, also was murdered and a Belgian teacher and three Canadian Jesuit brothers were injured.

The mission was stormed by four gangs of young rebel warriors. The revolt in Kwilu is led by former Congolese Education Minister Pierre Mulele, 34, who was trained in Peking.

The attack on Makunzika brought the toll of missionaries and teachers killed by Mulele's men to six. An American woman Baptist missionary and three Belgian Catholic priests were killed last month.

Makunzika mission consisted of five Canadian Jesuit brothers, five Belgian Jesuits, five lay teachers, the wives of two of the teachers and a 6-month-old baby.

All but one of the teachers were employed by the United Nations as part of the world organization's technical assistance to the Congo.

Most of the missionaries were in the hallway of the main building when the rebels burst in. They were made to kneel.

A rebel then fired a home-made musket at Marechal. He fell wounded. Mulele's warriors finished him with axes.

Another teacher, a Mr. Calens, was hit in the head with an arrow. He crumpled and the rebels left him for dead although he was not seriously wounded.

Three Canadian priests were then attacked. Brother Raymond Buissieres of Drummondville, Que., received arrow wounds in both arms as he fought back with bare fists.

Writ Sought for Ruby On TV Murder Viewers

John W. Owens, 32, Maple Heights, Ohio, and his son, John Jr., went tobogganing Sunday and wound up together in Marymount Hospital, both with broken left legs. Want to Know Whether Television Witnesses Can Be Qualified as Jurors

BY RELMAN MORIN

DALLAS (AP) — Jack Ruby's defense lawyers prepared to fly to the Texas capital today to file a petition for a writ of mandamus before the state supreme court.

The mandamus would involve a ruling on whether persons who viewed on television the shooting of Lee Harvey Oswald by Ruby could serve as jurors.

A mandamus is an order by the supreme court directing certain actions.

The defense claims those who saw the shooting by Ruby of the man accused of assassinating President Kennedy are witnesses and therefore ineligible under Texas law to be jurors in the case.

Falls 1,000 Feet, Breaks Leg in Drift

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Li Edward A. Dickson is worried. "While I'm waiting this out, I may have to do a bit of driving. You know, I really dread driving a car. It's damn dangerous."

Dickson, a Navy pilot from Wyoming, Pa., is in Oak Knoll Naval Hospital in Oakland recuperating from a broken right leg—the only major injury he suffered after falling 1,000 feet from his disabled A4 Skyhawk jet with a parachute that wouldn't open.

The plunge last Thursday, at an estimated 120 miles per hour, ended in a deep snow-drift. Only when the 26-year-old flier bounced 50 feet in the air, skidded along the snow and slammed into a pine tree did he realize something had gone wrong.

"As I turned," he said, "I noticed the parachute was still strapped to my back, still in its civil rights battle gets underway."

"I thought, 'The damn thing didn't open.' 'Who knows what a chute is supposed to feel like?' to me, this was the normal reaction. I'd never bailed out before."

Rescuers found him wrapped in the recalcitrant parachute for warmth. "Has he had enough of flying?" "Can't wait to get back in a cockpit."

Woman Picked as Third Ruby Juror

DALLAS (AP) — The third juror, a woman, was sworn in today in Jack Ruby's murder trial after defense legal maneuvers delayed the hearing.

The newest juror is Mrs. Mildred McCollum, mother of six and a secretary for a building contractor.

Nelson Assails Chamber for Attack on Civil Rights Bill

Asserts Commerce Group's View 'False, Misleading'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., said today that Wisconsin State Chamber of Commerce charges, record keeping, against the pending civil rights bill are "false and misleading" letter he had sent Hausheer Johnson the $11.5-billion tax cut bill this week before the opening round of the Senate's civil rights battle gets underway.

Nelson made public today a gross plans to send to President Johnson the $11.5-billion tax cut bill this week before the opening round of the Senate's civil rights battle gets underway.

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana intercepted the House-passed civil rights measure when it arrived at the Senate last Monday to prevent it from being sent to the Judiciary Committee—long a graveyard for civil rights proposals.

As soon as Mansfield moves to bring the bill up for consideration, probably late this week, Southern opponents are expected to start their filibuster.

Bodies Sought After Skid Row Fire in Illinois

15 Unaccounted for After Old 3-Story Building Burns

KANKAKEE, Ill. (AP)—Several residents of a skid row hotel were believed to have perished in a fire which destroyed an old three-story building today.

But, said Fire Chief John Marquart, "We won't know how many for a long time." Several hours after the roof and floors of the Alamo Hotel dropped in clouds of flame and sparks into the basement, 15 of the 36 listed occupants were not accounted for.

A foot-by-foot search of the debris will be required to establish the death toll, the fire chief said. No bodies were found up to mid-morning, has hose crews continued to soak the still hot ashes of the building's interior.

Can't Reach Third Floor

Firemen were not able to reach the third floor where day when the car in which he half the tenants lived. A number of persons was taken from and turned over after leaving the second floor, down a rear Highway 18 about four miles south of Prairie du Chien, Ing.

At least five residents of the hotel suffered burns. Four were treated at a hospital and another youth was injured.

The fifth, John White, 69, remained in the hospital.

Marquart said the skid row hotel, tenanted mainly by men, has been the scene of more than a dozen minor fires home. He died two hours later of the injuries.

The hotel was virtually gutted by today's fire. There was no immediate estimate of money damage.

Hoffa Expected to Take Stand Soon in Jury-Tampering Trial

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—James R. Hoffa, president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, is expected to take the witness stand in his own behalf today or Tuesday in his jury-tampering trial.

The leader of the nation's largest labor union is accused, along with five co-defendants, of trying to fix the jury that heard his conspiracy trial at Nashville in 1962.

The trial begins its sixth week today.

In addition to Hoffa, the defense has said it has other witnesses to call. And government attorneys say they will have some rebuttal witnesses.

Hoffa's co-defendants are Larry Campbell, Detroit; Nicholas J. Tweel, Huntington, W. Va.; Allen Dorfman, Chicago; and Thomas Parks and Ewing King of Nashville.

'Night of the Year' as Outagamie Hospital, Golden Age Home Have Formal Dance

It was 'the most wonderful night of the year' Thursday for patients at Outagamie County Hospital and residents of the Golden Age home there. Excitement and anticipation were high all day, as the men and women looked ahead to their annual Albert Sipler Received a last minute adjustment of his tie from Edward Hoffman before he joined other Golden Agers at the Outagamie County Hospital and Golden Age Home formal dance Thursday evening. formal dance. Women spent extra time on their grooming, giving themselves manicures and looking over their jewelry and accessories. Gowns were pressed and extra care taken to be sure all were at their best. The men gave an extra few minutes to be certain their shaves were close and smooth. Shoes were given that extra 'spit and polish'.

Corsages Make a Woman feel 'special,' and all the 'girls' attending the Thursday evening party wore a bright bit of bloom. Above, ready for the party, are Mrs. Anna Dietz and Mrs. Emma Gloudemans. At right, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hoffman stepped onto the dance floor as the band strikes up an old and familiar tune.

Helping to make the affair a success were volunteer helpers and contributions. Members of the Junior Red Cross and Appleton TOPS club helped the ladies dress for the party. Helping set the stage during the day were 31 students of the City College of Cosmetology, who set and combed the ladies' hair. Members of the Outagamie County Chapter of the American Red Cross who work at the hospital donated their time to fitting formal gowns and decorating the recreation room.

Made Corsages All the flowers and ribbon for corsages were donated by Appleton Floral Junction Greenhouse, and the 130 corsages were made up by members of Theda Clark Memorial Hospital Practical Nurses Alumni Association.

The cake served at the party was donated by Elm Tree Bakeries, and party napkins were given by Tuttle Press Co.

The efforts of everyone, given in a spirit of love and helpfulness were clearly worth while. When the band struck up the first notes and the couples moved onto the dance floor, bright eyes and gay little smiles indicated that life continues to have its pleasant moments.

Members of the Junior Red Cross assisted at the punch table and performed whatever services were necessary to make the dance a success. The chair fabric pattern of gold is the brightest color, accenting off-whites and beiges. The dining room chairs are trimmed in light turquoise.

Designing Woman 'Country' Furniture Just Made for City

BY ELIZABETH HILLIER

The largest piece of furniture in the new city apartment. Theoretically, the extra-rangy sofa had little chance of fitting into the room, new home at all, but it's exactly the right see-over divider for the living-dining room. In this delightful apartment, ideal full arrangement was managed every-where for furnishings the owners wanted most to keep. Nearly room-wide separation of living and dining areas be-comes a step inside the room. Neither area is entered through the other as the sofa, after a few feet, continues a hall wall out of view at left. The boun- teous setting smoothly organizes space and traffic while it com- fortably faces the lofty, glass- walled view. It also faces a swivelling TV set, in a favorite big cabinet which doubly jus- tifies its move to the city. It bal- ances the big sofa, and covers a solid wall projection to make surrounding glass seem unin- terrupted. On the projection top, a long planter locates plants in full light.

Males Claim 'Security' as Women Puff

BY JOY MILLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Since the government's cigarette report, more and more men are being confronted with the social necessity of lighting their ladies' little cigars or pipes.

Some women are convinced the men just love it.

"Nothing gives a man more of a sense of security than to see his wife light up a cigar or pipe after dinner," said a fur- swathed woman browsing among the ladies' briars at the tobaccoist's.

"At least that's what my husband says."

How widespread is this en- croachment upon male smok- ing habits? And what have been the results of the smoking report?

Tobacco stores: Many more women buying small cigars, just when they're in short sup- ply because of the innumerable male converts.

Brisk Pipe Trade
Department stores: Brisk sales of small pipes and mild tobaccos; more than brisk on the small, holder-tipped cigars.

Celebrities: Actresses known to be long-time cigar smokers—Joan Fontaine, Hermione Gin- gold, Lauren Bacall—getting a fresh burst of publicity.

Boutiques: The Fifth Avenue store of Alfred Dunhill of London, which used to see maybe a dozen ladies' pipes a month, since the government report already has dispensed more than $50, a little more than a month ago. Now it plans a smoking boutique just for wom- en.

Cigar makers: Most yawn at rumors they're developing or test marketing a strictly femi- nine cigar.

But a spokesman for the world's largest cigar company, Consolidated Cigar Corp., stated: "I do believe there will be a woman's cigar market be- cause there is a wider cigar market for everyone."

North's response of two clubs was the Stayman Convention, looking for a major suit. South bid two diamonds to deny a ma- jor suit. Whereupon North set- tled for game in notrump.

East won the first trick with the king of spades and returned the jack. West overtook with the queen of spades and returned the ten to force out the ace.

South discarded two clubs from dummy on the spades and then ran the diamonds, throw- ing two clubs as his first two discards. East discarded two hearts on the theory that South could not be beaten if he had A-Q-x of hearts. But then East had to find one more discard.

East had seen declarer throw two clubs, and it seemed that South had no interest in that suit. Another heart discard would be fatal if South held A-x or A-x-x of hearts. East there- fore discarded a club.

Fatal Error
It was a fatal error. South discarded a heart and cashed the top clubs, capturing the queen and jack. The ten of clubs provided declarer's ninth trick.

How could East tell what was going on?

It should be clear that West can lead either the ten or the eight of spades at the third trick to knock out the ace of spades. (West can actually lead any low spade if he relies on South to have only three spades to start with, as his bidding prom- ises.)

West would lead the ten of spades with strength in hearts, the high side suit; but he would lead the eight of spades if he had strength in clubs. Since West did lead the ten of spades, it was safe for East to discard hearts.

Wouldn't it be wonderful if you could trust your regular partner to signal with such ac- curacy?

Daily Question
Partner opens with three hearts, and the next player passes. You hold: S Q 10 8 5 4 2 H A D 9 6 3 2 D Q 9. What do you say?
Answer: Pass. Partner's shut- out bid shows less than a nor- mal opening bid, so that game is out of the question. Pass and hope for the best.

Former Contestant's Mom Vies for 'Mrs.' Title

BY LEE LINDER

CHERRY HILL, N.J. (AP)—The mother of a recent Miss America contestant wants to be- come this year's Mrs. America.

Jewell Malick, 43, a blonde, said she entered the Mrs. Amer- ica competition "because I'm sure it will be lots of fun, and I'm a pretty good homemaker."

Eight Contestants
The New Jersey judging, with eight contestants, will be held March 5 and 6 in this Camden County community not far from metropolitan Philadelphia.

"I'm really excited about it," she said. "And so is my family" — husband, Gordon, and four children.

Her eldest daughter, Georgia, 19, was Miss New Jersey in the 1962 Miss America pageant and won a $1,000 talent scholarship as a pianist. She now is a fresh- man at Rutgers University.

Public View
"Georgia thinks it is hilari- ous," Mrs. Malick admitted. "She says I'll know now how it feels to be on public view, and to smile prettily all the time."

The other children are Kip, 14, James, 8, and Heidi, 2.

What does her husband, an in- surance supervising adjuster, say?
"He thinks it's kinda cute," Mrs. Malick laughed. "Any- way he always called me his Mrs."

Auxiliary Endorses Candidates

Mrs. Edward Arndt Jr., was endorsed for the office of first vice-president at departmental level by the American Legion Auxiliary at a recent meeting.

Mrs. Sherman Kapp was also endorsed for the office of her choice at the district level. Both women have held all offices in the Auxiliary unit and a major- ity of chairmanships.

The Junior Auxiliary program was based on Americanism Month. Members presented skits on the meaning of the Flag, Stat- ue of Liberty and The Star Spangled Banner.

Representatives Elected
Elected as representatives to the Auxiliary Spring Conference at Wabena, April 18 were Mrs. Gordon Simon, Mrs. Fred Gehrke, Mrs. Robert Rusch, Mrs. Oscar Kuhn, Mrs. William Brinkman, Mrs. Milton Teske, Mrs. Kapp and Miss Mary Ham- lin.

Mrs. Thomas Brooks, legisla- ture chairman, read three bills which are before the Senate. A donation was voted to CARE for "Pumps For Education". Mrs. James Davis announced that the group will sponsor two bowling teams in the Alley Cat League.

Winner of the best poppy hat was Mrs. Henry Koletzke whose bonnet will be entered in the statewide contest at the Spring Conference.

The Auxiliary will entertain the Legion March 16 at a party recognizing its 44 years of or- ganization.

Y Inter-Club Council Prepares for Sadie Hawkins Day Dance Saturday

No Dogpatch party would be complete without the well known 'still.' Decoration committee members will provide the look of realism with jugs of 'corn likker.' Above, preparing for the party, are Mark Lowell, Beth Borsum and Sue Nock. At right, Beth Mounts paints a mural of Daisy Mae. Miss Mounts was named Speaker of the Assembly for the Youth in Government Day April 10 and 11 in Madison. Purpose of the party is to raise funds to send delegates to the YMCA-sponsored event. (Post-Crescent Photos)

A Sadie Hawkins Dance could have no better date than Feb. 29, when the custom of 'girl chase boy' has double significance. In keeping with Leap Year, the Inter-Club Council of the YMCA will have its Sadie Hawkins party Saturday evening at the YMCA Den.

Students attending the 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. party will dress in Daisy Mae and Li'l Abner costumes. It is rumored that Marryin' Sam will hold forte, and for that reason marriage licences will be sold for 15 cents. Entertainment will be provided by area folk singing groups.

Proceeds from the party will be used to help finance the attendance of delegates at the YMCA Youth in Government mock legislative conference April 10 and 11 in Madison. Two Appleton students, Robert 'Chip' Taggart and Beth Mounts were elected governor and speaker of the assembly and will preside over the legislature. Others will attend as senators and legislators.

Jay Tilkins is chairman of the Dogpatch Day party. Assisting him are Mark Lowell, publicity; Beth Borsum, Kathy Berkvar, Kathy Schultz, and Julie French, decorations; Trisha Gorsky, Jim Fine and Gordon Schuh, refreshments; John Schilling, entertainment; and Beth Mounts, chaperones.

All the Well-Known Characters of Dogpatch and Skunk Hollow will be duplicated in decorations for the Sadie Hawkins Day Dance Saturday evening at the YMCA Den. Above are Katie Schultz, Jim Fine and Jay Tilkins, chairman of the party.

Stop Grass Growth in Driveway

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q: What can I do to keep grass from growing up through my driveway (gravel and tar)? I do not want to use oil or anything that will look ugly.

A: Sprinkle the driveway surface with a strong solution of calcium chloride or rock salt in water, using a watering can. Any crystals that may form will wash off in rains. Weed killer very effective but there's the risk of heavy rains washing some from driveway edges into adjacent planting of lawn. So mix the weed killer solution with caution.

One of our readers from Boston has taken the time and trouble to pass along the simpler-than-scrubbing method she has found for removing the white salt stains (from snow melting) on bricks. "Simply paint the bricks with ox-blood liquid shoe polish, using the dauber that comes in the bottle. It works beautifully and also puts a bit of wax shine on brick. I have used this method for two years, and at the end of winter, with admirable results. It's nice on sooty fireplace brick, too." Thank you very much, Mrs. M. K., for passing this experience along to us!

Q: I would like to refinish my wood golf clubs which have heads made of pessimmon wood. What is the best method to remove the old finish (in rather good condition) down to the stain? What finish should I use? How many coats?

A: If the finish is still in good condition, see no reason for removing it. Wipe the surface of the club all over with fine steel wool and turpentine to remove all trace of grease, grime, etc., and to dull the finish. Then apply several very thin coats of marine varnish (two or three coats), allowing each coat to dry thoroughly before putting on the next. If you insist on removing the old finish first, use a liquid paint remover, following label directions very carefully.

Q: We just purchased a five-year-old home. When we moved in the formica counter tops in both kitchen and bath were so dirty that we used kitchen cleanser to remove the dirt. Now I cannot get a shine back on the formica. I have tried cream polishes and furniture polish, but no success. How can I get a shine back?

A: If the kitchen cleanser you used had a harsh abrasive it may have damaged the surface of the formica, making replacement the only satisfactory solution. However, try polishing the surface with an auto-cleaning wax, in cream or paste form (not liquid), according to manufacturer's instructions; sometimes this is very effective at restoring shine.

Your Problems

Young Man Plays Hiccups To Full Theater Audience

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Is it possible for a person to bring the hiccups on himself? The fellow to whom I'm engaged manages to get the hiccups at the most inopportune times. I believe Bud does it to attract attention, although he denies it.

Last week in the theater Bud started hiccuping—and I mean loud. He hiccuped for five minutes straight. Everyone in the place was roaring with laughter. I told him to cut it out because he was embarrassing me. Bud said he couldn't help it. Finally I warned him that if he hiccuped one more time I was walking out. The hiccups disappeared immediately.

What does this sound like to you? Do you know of a quick hiccup cure? Thanks for your help.—Chagrined

Dear Chagrined: Some people can bring on their own hiccups. Bud may or may not have this dubious talent.

One thing seems clear, however—once he gets the hiccups he plays 'em for all they're worth.

There are many home cures for simple hiccups. The one that works best for me is this: Hold the breath as long as possible then take a sip of water and hold the breath again—until the hiccups disappear.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Your advice to "Screaming Mother" was excellent. But I hoped you'd say something about the victims of "screaming mothers"—their helpless children.

My little brother and I were screamed at, slapped and knocked around almost every day of our lives. Dad would say, "Mother doesn't mean it. She's nervous."

My brother had an ulcer operation when he was 15 and died three months later. I had a nervous breakdown during my junior year in high school, and spent ten months in a private hospital.

I'm a senior in college now, working part-time to pay for psychiatric therapy.

Mother still screams at me every day, and reminds me of how much she went through to raise me. Thank God I've learned to tune her out but it has taken years.

If my "Screaming Mother" had had some therapy perhaps she would not have made emotional cripples out of her children.—Delores (which in Spanish means Daughter Of Sorrow.)

Dear Delores: If your therapy is a total success you will not only be able to "tune your mother out" but to forgive her. This poor woman, like thousands of other screaming mothers, is wretched and miserable. Temper your judgment with mercy.

DEAR ANN: Is it possible for a married man to keep in close touch with a former girl friend and still be faithful to his wife? The woman is 31 and has had three unsuccessful marriages. After her last divorce she called Rod and said she had to talk to him. He hopped into the car and drove right over to her place. It was 2:30 a.m. before he got home.

This woman has a 10-year-old daughter who calls my husband "Uncle Red." I was furious when I learned he took this child to the circus but was too busy to take his own three youngsters. (I found the ticket stubs in his pocket.)

I've put up with this pal stuff for 12 years. Rod claims he is serving humanity. Advise, please.—I. M. Fed

Dear Fed: It's time the girl found an unmarried humanitarian to cry on. And it's time your husband grew up.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope. (Copyright 1964)

MAIL CALL

Dear Taffy: I'm terribly shy and I wish I could do something about it. I will be entering high school next year. I would like to overcome my shyness if I can. I'm sure it will be a great handicap in making friends. What should I do?

Sincerely,
THE SHY ONE

Dear Shy One:

Shyness is never a handicap. Most people are a bit shy now and then. Some cover up by appearing aggressive and forward. A shy person can draw more friends because shyness makes the other person feel more comfortable. So don't try to overcome a pleasing quality. But do make a little more effort to be first to say a friendly "hello" and you won't have any trouble making and keeping friends.

Keep happy,
TAFFY

It's Saturday, Feb. 29, and even the victims—the bachelors—are excited.

The single ladies will take over this northern Illinois city of nearly 20,000 persons for the once-in-a-quadrillion event.

Miss Joyce Hayne, a secretary in the accounting department of Ottawa Silica Co., will be inaugurated mayor for a day. The role falls to her as president of the Ottawa Junior Women's Club.

Then, other girls will take the other city jobs—police chief, judge, fire chief, city prosecutor, and the City Council posts. After that, the mere maie population must watch its step—and, incidentally, its pocket-book.

This year, the girls are raising funds for a new mobile rescue unit which will go either to the fire department or the river rescue unit that patrols the Illinois River.

Men Will Pay

Dorothy Bender, who was mayor four years ago, said the money will come from the men—or else.

Contributions are collected in open court from men who are summoned by the dainty arrest notices of the day—and the City Council posts.

The Famous Cleveland Playhouse repertory company will bring two equally famous plays to the Fox Cities area next week. Above, members of the touring company are seen in Sean O'Casey's sharp Irish satire "Drums Under the Windows," scheduled for the Lawrence Community Artists Series next Monday night at Memorial Chapel. Curtain time is 8:15 p.m. The company's second play, "The Rivalry," will be given at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday, March 3, at the Oshkosh Civic Auditorium on the series sponsored by Wisconsin State College, Oshkosh.

Cleveland Repertory Theater Giving Two Stage Plays in Area

O'Casey's 'Drums Under the Windows' in Appleton; Corwin's 'Rivalry' in Oshkosh

One of the country's oldest repertory theaters, The Cleveland Playhouse, will bring a sparkling change of pace to two area cultural series next week.

The touring company of the Playhouse will present Sean O'Casey's Irish satire "Drums Under the Windows" at 8:15 p.m. next Monday in Lawrence Memorial Chapel as the last of the Lawrence-Community Artists Series.

The next night, Tuesday, March 3, the group performs on the Oshkosh Civic Center stage in Oshkosh High School. "The Rivalry," Norman Corwin's play about the celebrated Lincoln-Douglas debates, opens at 8:15 p.m. as one of the Oshkosh State College's Lecture Series.

Fox Cities area theatergoers may remember the Corwin play when it was given in Appleton under Paul Gregory during the producer's pre-Broadway try-out swing. This performance was one of the Neenah Rotarian's Famous Star Series.

The Cleveland Playhouse, a 47-year-old company, took to the road in 1960 after its longtime residency in the Ohio metropolis.

3 Permanent Theaters
Today in Cleveland it has three permanent theaters in which it annually produces some 20 plays, both modern and classic types. A salaried staff of 70, half of whom are acting personnel, is in continuous activity from September through mid-May at the home base. The company has, in addition, a selected group of apprentices and some 300 youngsters enrolled in its Children's Theatre.

The Playhouse was founded in 1915 as a community theatre. It grew from an amateur level until 1926 when its present building was erected with two the-

Boyle, Edward Binns, Howard da Silva, Amy Douglass and Eleanor Parker.

Important Guests
Visitors to the theater also have an impressive log. They have included Leslie Howard, Orson Welles, Ethel Barrymore, Tyrone Guthrie, Maurice Evans, Marc Connelly, Peter Ustinov, Charles Coburn, Charles Laughton, Jessica Tandy, Jose Ferrer and Elia Kazan.

The success of the Playhouse venture in taking to the road Show. He steals it again, in an episode that lets him be egotistical, show biz, heartbroken and Taubman, on a 2,000-mile trek in the company's wake last year solo spot in the annual choral to evaluate the unique project, His subsequent reports, and similar stories by national and international papers and periodicals glowed with enthusiasm.

The O'Casey production slatted here moves easily between quick humor and dagger-sharp satire. It is adapted from the Irish playwright's autobiographical writings, with O'Casey presented as the central character, Sean Casside. More than a dozen other characters support young Sean as he grows up in a world of ignorance, intolerance and boyish delight.

Business Hope for 60's Not Fulfilled

Financiers Believe Economy Could Soar if Bugs Removed

economy's vital statistics show that year total production of goods and services was $502.6 billion. This gross national product was $385 billion in 1963 and now is running at an annual rate of $600 billion. In the four years personal incomes rose from $401.3 billion to $475.2 billion. Corporate profits after taxes went from $22 billion to $27.5 billion. Industrial production in 1960 was 109.8 per cent of the 1957-59 base and at the end of 1963 it was 127 per cent. Why did the economy dip a little in 1960, instead of soar? Here are some of the reasons: —An expansion spree in the middle and late 1950s left many industries with excess production capacity. And many companies had overbuilt inventories.

—This coincided with less urgency in consumer demands. Much of the postwar demand for homes and gadgets had been met. People continued spending, but only a little more each year. Personal consumption outlay in 1960 came to $328.2 billion. At the end of 1963 it hit a record annual rate of $375 billion. But this wasn't the exploding demand that had been counted upon to blast the economy off the launching pad.

—And the population growth for consumption was earned by didn't work quite the way the experts had figured. The in-workforce was mostly among those who were too young or too old to work. The 1960 census counted 180 million four years later. Unemploy-

In Courthouse Lot

— Except Parked Car

A Waupun State Prison inmate who apparently has served his term in Waupun and has left no traces of his whereabouts, is being sought by Outagamie County authorities who are anxious to return the man's car. The 1956 model car has been locked and parked in a stall on the courthouse's employee parking lot since April, 1961 when the man was sentenced. Several efforts to find the man so he could redeem the car have been unfruitful. Prison records do not include a forwarding address. The man's family in Colorado was contacted, but they did not answer the county's letter.

Takes Up Space

The car was brought to the attention of Alvin Woehler, county business administrator, by employees who complained the car was occupying space which could be used by a courthouse employee.

Woehler said today he has asked the sheriff's department to move the car. Sheriff Calvin Spice said the car is to be taken to the Outagamie County highway garage for storage.

Woehler said the county will make one more effort by certified mail to find the owner. If the owner does not pick up the car or answer the letter, the car will be disposed of.

Space Problem

Removal of the one car will however, not solve the county's growing parking problem in the courthouse area.

Woehler said the public property and insurance committee is studying a proposed policy which would forbid unauthorized cars from parking in the lot.

Tickets would be placed on the car windshields telling the owner the parking lot is private and the car will be removed at the owner's expense.

Construction of sewage facilities on the streets surrounding the courthouse has compounded the problem, Woehler said most of the construction should be completed in a week and on-street parking in front of the

The spell-down went 27 rounds. A new high, before a winner was determined. Forty-nine pupils from the five Appleton Catholic and had not come to the surface. Mrs. Lowe called Appleton Heart School, the 1963 winner.

Second place and a $25 prize went to Donald Salm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Salm, and an eighth grader at Sacred Heart School. Thomas Vanden Elsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Vanden Elsen, a seventh grader at St. Joseph School, won third place and a $10 prize.

Citizen Offers to

An Appleton resident has a suggestion for disposing of excess dirt fill from city projects.

Percy C. Menning, 57 Fox Point Drive, said he would be glad to get the dirt delivered if there would be no charge for the fill or hauling.

Provided surface drainage in the area of his property was not affected.

The city would follow the route he prescribed.

Menning said he could use the fill on his low-lying properties north of Northland Avenue service road.

He asked city officials to let him know whether "you shall avail yourselves of this offer."

Jeffery Lowe Out Of Hospital After
Plunge Near Dam

Jeffery Lowe, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lowe, 2513 S. Jackson St., was released today from St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was taken after being pulled 60 feet underwater through the tailrace of a Fox River dam under S. Oneida Street Saturday afternoon.

Jeffery, who planned to attend school this afternoon, said he was "a little frightened" during his short ordeal in the tailrace Saturday. Doctors at the hospital checked the boy for possible head cuts and took X-rays; otherwise he was given a clean bill of health.

Jeffery and his brother, Steve, 8, were pulling dead fish from the river near the S. Oneida Street dam when Jeffery fell in and was drawn into the culvert-like tailrace.

Carried Underwater
Rushing water carried the boy underwater through the pipe and into a screen which is used to damaging a waterwheel in the Appleton Machine Co.

The boy managed to grab a piece of wood and hang on. He called for help and Carroll Lemere, Shiocton, an employee at the mill who was about to leave the mill and go home, heard the boy's cry. Lemere said he looked into the flume and saw a pair of hands "hanging on." Lemere pulled the boy out of the hole.

Lemere carried the boy into an office where he and Steven Tanner, Neenah, took the wet clothes off the boy and bundled him in blankets. An ambulance was called and the youth was taken to the hospital.

After the boy had fallen into the water, his brother raced home and told his parents that Jeffery had gone into the water from the five Appleton Catholic and had not come to the surface. Mrs. Lowe called Appleton police.

NEENAH — The city plan commission will meet in the City Hall Tuesday evening, according to R. V. Hauser, city clerk.

Wednesday the public works commission will meet, Hauser said.

New City Rules

Drinking on Job Will Be Cause for Dismissal

Municipal employees caught drinking on the job will be subject to immediate dismissal under terms of broad safety rules submitted to the Appleton Common Council for approval.

The 13 pages of recommendations were prepared by the city's departmental safety committee, which meets periodically and discusses ways of cutting the accident rate.

Rules for those handling municipal equipment and vehicles are outlined in detail, along with other regulations, including one pertaining to drinking intoxicating liquor while working.

"Employees shall do their work and drive equipment with all possible regard for their own safety and for the rights and safety of others," the report says.

Street Work

"Street work, especially on the roadway is a dangerous occupation, and employees must exercise unusual care to avoid accidents," it continues.

Announce Competition March 14
At Three District Locations

The Valley Council of the Boy Scouts of America will hold snow derbies for each of its three districts March 14.

A snow derby consists of a series of events on an outdoor course. Events deal with first aid, emergency procedures, physical fitness, scouting skills such as fire building, signaling, compass reading and knot tying.

Each patrol will be required to complete each event satisfactorily, repeating the event or being instructed if necessary to complete the rating.

The total elapsed time to cover the whole course will be used to determine the rating.

The Tri-City District snow derby will be held at Plamann Park, the North District derby at the Lutheran Church Camp, Long Lake, and the East District derby at Bishop's Woods, one-half mile east of Sherwood on County Trunk B.

Patches For Participants
Only registered Boy Scouts below Explorer age will be eligible to participate. Each boy will receive a patch for participating, and each patrol will receive a streamer indicating a rating based on the time required to complete the course.

Equipment needed by each patrol will include a hand axe, knife, six lengths of rope each six feet long, compass, visual signaling equipment, patrol first aid kit, blanket, pad of paper, pencil and a homemade sledge capable of carrying one boy.

Registration will be from 1 to 2 p.m. Adults will be responsible for each patrol getting to the snow derby and will assist in headquarters during the derby. No assistance to competing patrols will be allowed.

LITTLE CHUTE — A new 4-H Club for Little Chute area youth will be organized at a 7 p.m. meeting Thursday at the public school here. Courtney Schwartz, Outagamie County Club agent, has announced.

Pilgrim Fellowship of First Congregational Church plans to lend a hand to a Lend-a-Hand Center near Dewitt, Ky., next month.

Twenty-two senior high school students from Appleton will work on the farm — mission project from March 21 through 28. They will be accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. David Juers, 10 W. Court, and Miss Marjorie Spotts, a Lawrence College student.

The young people will pay for most travel expenses themselves, but are planning several fund-raising projects to help cover costs of the trip. They will travel by bus.

The Lend-a-Hand Center is a 90-acre farm in an isolated section of Kentucky, owned and worked by two young women who started it with the hope of influencing neighbors to recognize the value of Christianity.

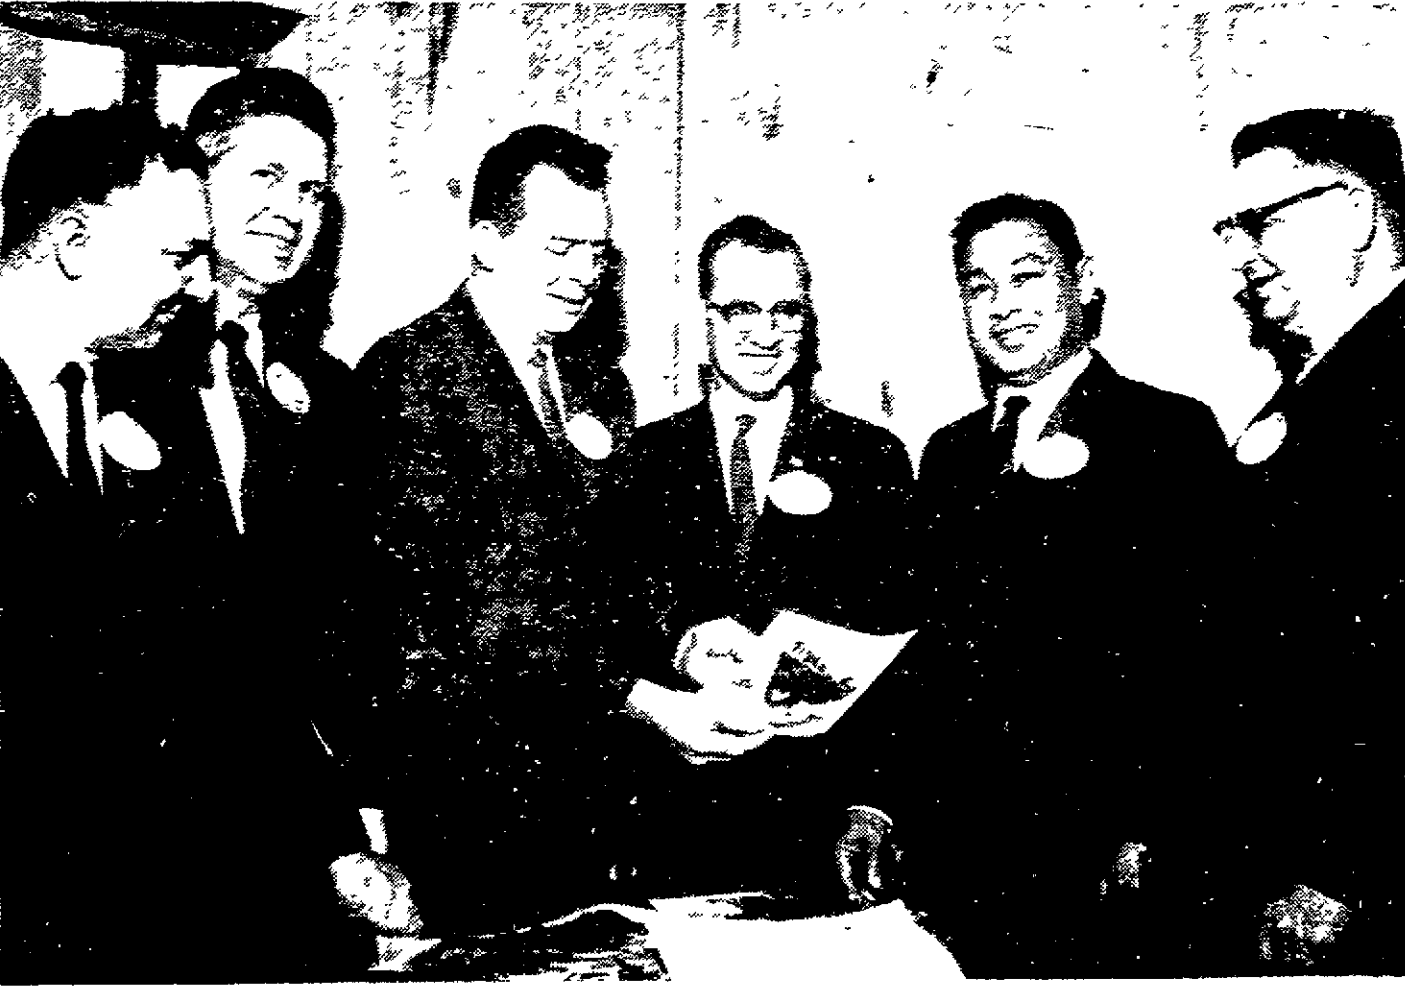

Many Jobs
In addition to their work as a teacher and a nurse, they serve as 4-H Club leaders, Sunday school teachers, librarians and youth recreation leaders, plant and harvest crops, raise pigs, chickens and rabbits, tend cattle and do other farm chores.

Miss Irma Gall teaches at a one-room school eight miles from the center. Miss Peggy Kemmer provides nursing services for a 100-square-mile area. She works under standing orders from a doctor at the nearest hospital, which permit her to give assistance to local residents who otherwise would have to travel miles to a physician.

A visiting minister conducts an interdenominational church service at the center once a month. Weekly Sunday school and youth meetings are held at the farm, and a library is in the chapel.

Appleton Pilgrim Fellowship learned of the project from a visitor as was indicated in the Congregational Church group in Wilmette, Ill., which visited there. Their decision to make the trip as a work project was announced by the group in a letter to the center.

The group is Everett Leonard, who an outgrowth of a similar Lawrence student trip to Bilco, Miss., last year.

State Reappraisal

To Study Release of Menominee Controls

MADISON — The state government will make a reappraisal of problems of Menominee County residents to determine the success or failure of the termination of federal government controls of the former Menominee Reservation three years ago.

Gov. Reynolds made the announcement this morning when he was flanked at a news conference by U.S. Indian Commissioner Philo Nash, former lieutenant governor, who said he is worried about the many problems of the former reservation community.

Library 'Friends' Forms Committee to Aid Local Groups

The newest action committee of Friends of Wisconsin Libraries (FOWL), a group of citizens interested in improving and expanding library services throughout the state, is the "Friends of Friends."

Under the chairmanship of J. Wilbur Vickery, assistant to the director of the Green Bay Center, University of Wisconsin, this committee has begun to serve the requests of local libraries for help in forming their own supporting groups.

Friends' groups are now functioning in Ripon, Madison, Beloit, Manitowoc, Green Bay, Oshkosh and Waushara. Others are being planned.

Among their activities are obtaining donations of books, art, furniture and money for their local libraries; arranging lectures, social and commemorative events; promoting legislation in support of improved library services, and enlisting community interest and support to meet growing population needs.

The annual meeting of Friends of Wisconsin Libraries will be held Sunday afternoon, April 19, at the Milwaukee Public Library. It is open to the public.

Nash said he regards it as "unlikely" congress will repeal the termination act and make the Menominees U. S. Government wards again.

The governor said he hopes to be able to present to the 1965 legislature a complete account of the economic and political problems of the Menominees, in the event new state legislation is needed.

The legislature last fall set up a special $1 million assistance loan program for the Menominees.

5-Year Training For Teachers Recommended

Angus Rothwell Cites State Need for New Programs, Curricula

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — School boards of the state should be looking toward the time when five years of professional preparation for teaching will be standard, the state department of public instruction believes.

In what he described as a statement of his own goals for Wisconsin education and recommendations to local school administrators, Supt. Angus Rothwell said a four-year teaching degree should be minimum, and local school men should develop "a definite program that will lead to a fifth year."

Moreover, the fifth year should be supplemented by a planned and continuous in-service program that will keep the teacher qualified in content and modern practice, he said in a bulletin to local school administrators.

New Requirement

The legislature last year enacted a four-year training requirement for all teachers, to take effect with the 1972-73 academic year.

The act convinced leaders of surviving county teacher colleges that their two and three-year training programs, developed in earlier times, must be adjusted. Proposals are pending for adaptation of those schools to area junior colleges for general students.

Rothwell also urged a constant review of curriculum materials and teaching methods, urged schoolmen to work for a state school financing system to supplement the local property tax base that will be based on ability to pay and incentives for the improvement of school quality, and a strengthening of the supervisory staff and services of his office.

"Much unnecessary duplication of effort to improve local curricula, supervision and procedures could be avoided if the department were strengthened," he said.

Children Drop Lighted Matches in Hole in Floor, Start Blaze

Children dropping lighted matches through a hole in the kitchen floor at the Lloyd Noss home, 1010 N. Union St., were cited by fire authorities as responsible for a minor basement blaze this morning.

Firemen were called to the home about 10:30 a.m. Material stored in the basement below the kitchen caught fire, but was quickly extinguished. Smoke from the fire filled the home and was extracted by smoke fans.

Authorities said the children, ranging from 2 to 5 years, admitted dropping the lighted matches onto the material in the basement.

Gresham Man To be Named Shawano Judge

Kenneth Traeger Is Gov. Reynolds Choice for Post

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — Gov. John Reynolds said today he will appoint Kenneth Traeger, veteran Gresham lawyer and Shawano County Democratic leader, as Shawano County judge to succeed Robert Fischer, Shawano, who died recently.

The appointment will probably be made late today. Traeger, 61, has been Gresham village president for the last 10 years. In political circles he is widely known as a long-time leader of the Shawano County Democratic organization. He was nominated for Seventh District congressman three times against Rep. Melvin Laird, incumbent Republican.

Traeger ran for congress in 1954, 1958 and 1960. He is a director of Gresham State Bank, and a graduate of St. Norbert College and the Marquette University law school.

One of his brothers is Dodge County judge, and another, the Rev. Adrian, is pastor of a Catholic parish at Oneida and a teacher at Fremont High School, Green Bay.

Police Investigate Thefts, Two Break-ins in Menasha

MENASHA — A flurry of break-ins and robberies swept through Menasha during the weekend. The "take," however, was light.

Police are investigating a break-in at the Wisconsin Lubricating and Oil Corp., 320 DePere St. Thieves broke two 12 by 30 inch windows to gain entry. The rear door also was found open.

The break-in occurred sometime after 2 a.m. Sunday. Nothing was reported missing.

A second break-in occurred at Badger Oil Corp., 330 DePere St., sometime Sunday night. Entry was gained through the west-side window. A 67 by 57 inch plate glass window was broken on the outside and a 152 by 30 inch window on the inside of the building.

An estimated $20 in coins was taken. A statewide search has been initiated for a green, Chevrolet half-ton pickup truck stolen from Harvey Zimmer, 710 Second St., Menasha, sometime between 8 and 10 a.m. Sunday from where it was parked in the 100 block of Main St.

Gary Kenke, 631 Broad St., Menasha, reported his bicycle taken from the back yard of his home during the weekend.

Johnson Moves From California To Florida

President Shows He Likes to Mix With the Crowds

BY FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson has returned from California with a sunburn and a new zest for kissing babies and meeting voters. He'll have a caucus Sunday chance to renew the burn and do some more people-greeting in Florida Thursday.

Johnson returned to Washington by jet transport late Sunday night after spending three days in Los Angeles and Palm Springs. His Florida foray will take him to Jacksonville, Palatka and Miami for a heavy day-long schedule of public appearances.

In California, the President demonstrated an extraordinary penchant for mixing with state party crowds, even when his Secret Service bodyguards were un-easy about the idea. During one stop in Los Angeles, he waded into a milling throng that was so eager to get at him that one woman broke her leg in the crush.

Enthusiastic Handshake Although Johnson has always shared the politician's handshake proclivities, never before did he go at it with such enthusiasm. At Los Angeles International Airport, after saying farewell to Mexican President Adolfo Lopez Mateos, Johnson was so anxious to personally greet onlookers that he was undeterred by a wire fence seven feet high.

Climbing over a rope barrier, Johnson made a beeline for the fenced-in spectators and began touching fingers through the wire mesh. When some members of the crowd stretched their hands over the top of the fence, the President reached to grab them—even though strands of barbed wire aloft the fence presented a hazard.

Crowd Waiting Getting off the plane in Palm Springs a half hour later, Johnson found the waiting crowd more numerous and the fence lower. Although it was after dark by this time, he spent about 15 minutes moving the length of this barrier while Air Force sergeants tried without success to move big floodlights so Secret Service agents and police could watch the crowd.

By this time, Johnson had put in a full day of public appearances and business sessions with Lopez Mateos, his guest back in the east wing of the Capitol building in Madison. The selection of national Democratic convention delegates was Elizabeth Hawks, a Washburn attorney; Karl Andre-sen, a political science instructor at Eau Claire State College; William McDonough, a Superior labor attorney, and Martin Hanson of Mellen, the chairman's brother.

Candidate Again Rep. Lester Johnson, D-Wis., whose 9th District was eliminated in a reapportionment plan approved last year, indicated in a telegram read at the caucus that he would be a candidate for re-election, opposing one of two Republicans—Alvin O'Konski, the 10th District incumbent, or Vernon W. Thomson, 3rd District incumbent.

In another development Sunday, Mrs. Jeanette Swed of the Milwaukee suburb of Bayside, said she would run for the post of national committeewoman. Mrs. Swed said the incumbent Milwaukee alderman Mrs. Vel Phillips, "had not fulfilled the expectations of the rank and file."

No Announcements Mrs. Phillips, who is completing her second four-year term, has not announced whether she will run again, but did welcome the entry of Mrs. Swed into the campaign. The national committee posts will be filled at the party's June convention.

Barry Goldwater Jr., 25, said in a Milwaukee interview Sunday that his father, the Arizona senator bidding for the Republican presidential nomination, "is a great man—a fantastic father."

The younger Goldwater, attending the opening of a headquarters for his father, said, "I feel I can help him by showing the American people that he is more than a senator and a statesman... His conservative philosophy is something that's needed in our country."

Friendship also was the keynote of Saturday's communique on his sessions with Lopez Mateos. It emphasized "a high level of understanding and cooperation" between the two presidents and the governments they represent.

U. S. Resumes Diplomatic Ties With Zanzibar

Envoys to Island After Recognition Of Other Nations

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

ZANZIBAR: The United States has resumed diplomatic relations with Zanzibar after recognizing the island republic's new leftist government.

The State Department said two U.S. diplomats flew to Zanzibar Sunday after the United States, Great Britain and other Commonwealth nations extended recognition to the regime of President Abeid Karume.

Karume seized power Jan. 12, ousting the sultanate that had governed the island since it received its independence from Britain in December.

MILLS-TAXES: The congressional architect of the $11.5-billion tax cut bill says additional reductions are possible "in the not too distant future" provided federal expenditures are curtailed.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills of the House Ways and Means Committee said Sunday that the bill—slated for final congressional approval this week—provides "a federal income tax much more in tune with our times."

"Indeed," Mills' statement continued, "preserving the gains for the economy and for federal finances which we can confidently expect from this bill may both permit and require additional tax reductions in the not too distant future."

GUANTANAMO: Adm. David L. McDonald, chief of naval operations, today called the Navy's base at Guantanamo, Cuba, "a very important base."

In a copyrighted interview in the magazine "U.S. News and World Report," Adm. McDonald said Guantanamo had value as a tactical base "as long as we keep our antisub forces operating more than a senator and a statesman... His conservative philosophy is something that's needed in our country."

Reds' Grain Boycott Continued by Union

Longshoremen Want Guarantee At Least Half of All Wheat Will be Sent by U. S. Vessels

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—After four futile days of talks, say-A union boycott blocking multi-million-dollar shipments of U.S. wheat to Russia continued today after the collapse of negotiations between labor leaders and Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz.

Not one bushel of wheat will be loaded in U.S. ports until federal officials guarantee at least half of all grain shipments to Soviet bloc countries will go in American vessels, said President Thomas W. Gleason of the International Longshoremen's Union.

Eight ships are tied up by the boycott in Atlantic and Gulf Coast ports.

Michigan Doctor to Head Leprosy Clinic

NEW YORK (AP)—A Michigan doctor will set up a leprosy clinic near Livingston, Northern Rhodesia.

Dr. Joseph W. Christie, 59, Northport, Mich., left New York Sunday night on an airliner for Dublin. From there, he will go to Northern Rhodesia, after conferring with missionaries of the Capuchin order, who will help in setting up the clinic.

Christie, a widower with three grown children, had been chief of staff at a Northport hospital. Before coming to Michigan in 1929, he served at the leper colony in Carville, La.

Absolution for Jews Support Growing

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Support is growing among American Roman Catholics for a church decree absolving Jews for the death of Jesus Christ, says a Jewish leader.

Rabbi Marc H. Tanenbaum, national director of the American Jewish Committee's department of interreligious affairs, made the statement Sunday at the annual meeting of the Jewish Federation of St. Louis.

The rabbi said the proposed decree was introduced during his last session of the Vatican Ecumenical Council in Rome but was not acted upon.

Police Hunt Girl's Killer In Tennessee

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—In the neat, middle-class suburb of Crieve Hall police are seeking the same man they've been after for six months—but now they want to question him about murder as well as rape.

Late Saturday night someone fired two or three bullets—authorities can't agree on the number—into the body of Miss Paula Herring, 18 years old, good looking and a freshman at the University of Tennessee, home from the Knoxville campus for a weekend visit.

She was dead when police arrived at her home in Crieve Hall.

There was immediate speculation, among police authorities and residents of the area, that it was the work of the man who has terrorized the section since early last fall. There has been at least one rape, one attempted rape and numerous break-ins.

"This is probably the same man we've been looking for," said George Currey, special investigator for the district attorney general. "If it is, we may have another Boston strangler on our hands."

He referred to a series of unsolved stranglings in Boston. The victims there have been women.

"We thought, from the attacker's pattern, that eventually he would get cornered," Currey said. "We feared he would attempt to rape someone who put up a struggle—and that he would have to kill her."

Paula apparently fought her

Unbeaten UCLA Clinches Title Tie

Kentucky Moves Into SEC Lead As Georgia Upsets Georgia Tech

BY MURRAY CHASS
UCLA, whose previous NCAA basketball tournament performance has been almost as perfect in reverse as its unbeaten record this season, can clinch the Big Six title and another berth in the post-season play to night at Washington.

By winning their 23rd game against Washington, a team they've whipped twice already, the Bruins can go into the tournament for the third straight year and sixth time altogether.

The nation's No. 1 team clinched at least a tie for the conference championship with a 100-88 triumph over Stanford Saturday night.

Among the other top ten teams, Michigan, Kentucky, Duke, Wichita, Oregon State and Davidson won while Villanova and Drake were upset. DePaul didn't play.

Leading UCLA's attack have been senior Walt Hazzard and junior Gail Goodrich. They did it again Saturday night, scoring 53 points between them. Hazzard had 27 and Goodrich 26.

Each, however, was outscored by Stanford's Tom Dose, who pitched in 38 points. In fact, the Bruins had to throw up a full-court press in the second half before they could overcome a 42-37 halftime deficit.

Kentucky, 29-2, moved into the lead of the Southeastern Conference, ripping Auburn 99-69-63. The loss was the third for 79 while Georgia upset Georgia Tech 81-68. Kentucky and Georgia Tech had been tied for first, but now a Wildcats' victory coupled with a Yellow Jackets' defeat would end the race.

Both teams play tonight, Kentucky at Alabama and Georgia Tech at Florida.

Michigan, 18-3, remains dead-

Rangers' Playoff Hopes Vanish in Loss to Toronto

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
"We made the trade with an eye on the future," explained Muzz Patrick after the New York Rangers dealt captain and scoring star Andy Bathgate to National Hockey League rival Toronto Saturday.

The Maple Leafs weren't looking any farther ahead than next month's Stanley Cup playoffs when they acquired Bathgate and Don McKenney in exchange for Bob Nevin and Dick Duff of the Leafs and three prize Toronto farmhands.

Neither, it would seem, were New York fans, whose patience is wearing thin after a 24-year championship drought. "Muzz must go," they chanted Sunday night as the Rangers' playoff hopes vanished in a 4-3 Toronto victory that completed a two-game, 24-hour sweep by the Leafs.

While Bathgate and McKenney upstaged their ex-mates, Chicago moved back into a first-place tie with Montreal by blanking Boston 2-0 while the Canadiens lost to Detroit 3-2. The Canadiens had beaten the Hawks 3-1 Saturday and the Red Wings had edged the Bruins 3-2.

Nevin, 25, and Duff, 28, should help New York in the long run. The three minor-leaguers—defenseman Arnie Brown, center Bill Collins and winger Rod Seiling—are considered top prospects.

But, for the moment at any rate, there is joy in Toronto and gloom in Rangerland.

The Honor of Accepting Xavier High School's regional basketball tourney championship trophy went to George Wiesener (left) and Paul Putzer (center), who are members of the varsity but had to be cut from the squad to get the Hawks down to the tournament limit. Making the presentation is Brother James Francis, F. S. C., principal of Oshkosh Lourdes High School. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Call Kuharich, Trimble Top Choices for Eagles' Post

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Joe Kuharich or Jim Trimble reportedly will be the new head coach of the Philadelphia Eagles but owner Jerry Wolman insists there is nothing definite just yet.

The Philadelphia Inquirer reported today that Wolman has swung back to the two names high on his original list of can-

Chamberlain Paces Warriors

Wilt Hits 37 In Win Over LA; 76ers, Bullets Win

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Wilt Chamberlain is doing more than leading San Francisco in scoring these days. He's also leading them to victories.

Chamberlain, the National Basketball Association's perennial scoring champion, never has played on a divisional list.

Asked if Kuharich, former Washington Redskins' and Notre Dame coach, and Trimble, head coach of the Eagles from 1952 through 1955, were the two top prospects, Wolman said: "I'd rather not comment. Until we have something definite complete with whom we're working with, practically no one's eliminated."

Snead Wins Senior Title

Victory Includes Trip to England, $2,500, Trophy

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (AP)—Eighteen years ago at the peak of a brilliant career, Slammin' Sam Snead won the British Open crown. Now he is going back to England, this time as the 51-year-old king of America's senior golfers.

Snead won the PGA Seniors title Sunday with a nine-under-par 279 over the new PGA National Golf Club course, after shrugging off late challenges by John Barnum and the old Arkansas Traveler, Dutch Harrison.

Hartford's Ritger Grabs All-Events Lead in State

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Dick Ritger of Hartford took over as the all-events leader in the Wisconsin State Bowling Association Tournament Sunday, building a total of 2,031 on 665 in doubles and 863's in team and singles.

There was only one other first place change as Donald Meyer-beter and Leonard Roloff of Milwaukee took the junior doubles lead on a 1,136 count.

In other changes, Ronald Matty and Ray Lane of Milwaukee took second in minor doubles with 1,212, and Robert Match and Andy Koszarnek of Milwaukee gained third place on 1,194.

Dave Benedict and George Leland (Duke) Gibson of Kansas City, Mo., the runner-up at third place in junior doubles the end of the third round, collapsed to a 77 for 287 and fourth place. Dohratz of Milwaukee took money of $1,200. Jim Turnesa third in junior singles on a 622 won fifth place and $900.

Finley Accepts 4-Year Lease

the A's will open the 1964 season under the ownership of Charles O. Finley. The American League voted 9-1 last Friday in Boston that the Kansas City lease proposal of four years was fair. As a result of the meeting, I had no alternative but to sign up immediately or be thrown out of baseball. Since I have such great love for the game, my decision was easily made."

Draft Response
In Kansas City, Mayor Irl Davis called a meeting of the City Council's baseball committee for 10 a.m. today to "draft a response," he said. Davis added that the city will start a ticket drive the moment the lease is signed.

Only 750 season tickets have sold for the 1964 season, virtually none since December. Last year at this time 2,000 had been sold.

The new contract calls for a four-year lease with two four-year options. In the first four-year term Kansas City would get five per cent of paid admissions and 7 1/2 per cent of the concession revenue. The first $50,000 of concession revenue goes to the city and the excess would be applied to the $300,000 which Finley allegedly has spent to improve the stadium.

Paul Albers Slams 654 Series in Kimberly Loop

Paul Albers slammed games of 240 and 225 and finished with a 654 series to top the National League at Jerry's Lanes, Kimberly.

Other high counts were registered by Ed Belongea, 231, 605; Art Levknecht, 581; Charles Jansen, 251, 577; Clarence Gehrman, 558; Joe De Leeuw, 533, and Len Kinsman, 240, 550.

STAR DASH

Tony Hietpas rapped a 235 singleton and a 592 series to lead the Tri City League at Little Chute Recreation.

Other high scores were hit by Don LeNoble, 557; Rog Vander Wyl, 560, and Lawrence Van Deraa, 561.

Bragan Stresses Bat For Young Pitching Set

Hoeft Among Vets; Claims No Shoulder Trouble, Needs Time

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Milwaukee Braves Manager Bobby Bragan wants his pitchers to be pitchers and batters, and took the mound himself Sunday to show them how to swing a bat.

"Not enough attention is paid to pitchers as hitters and this is the best opportunity we'll ever have to get some of those youngsters thinking in terms of learning to use the bat to help win games," Bragan said.

"We'll continue to punt and hit when our experienced pitchers show up next month," he said. After pitching the batting practice, Bragan supervised a drill devoted to showing the pitchers how to cover first base.

The workout was the first in the training camp for Braves rookies.

Rain washed out the Saturday sessions, marking the first time Braves' plans had been stalled by weather since the club began training here last year.

Exhibitions
Anxious to make up the lost time, Bragan had Jim Fanning, of the Braves training coordinator, line up a pair of exhibition games. As a result, the Braves will play the University of Miami at Miami next Saturday, then entertain the university club here on Sunday.

Hurrier Billy Hoeft, the former Oshkosh prep star obtained and in the San Francisco Giants' in a winter trade, was among the veterans joining in Sunday's work.

Hoeft, who pitched only 24 innings last season because of a shoulder separation, said there was no sign of the injury.

He didn't try to throw hard

Jet-Powered Car Claims World Drag Record

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP)—The Green Monster—a jet powered dragster—sped 271.07 miles per hour Sunday and its owner claimed a world's record.

The automobile, driven by a Doug Rose of Milwaukee and three-point play. Then, with just built by Walt Arion of Akron, seven seconds left, he guided in a stray jump shot by Guy Rodgers for the winning basket.

The big man wound up with 37 points even though he played with a bad leg.

Saturday night was an important one in the Eastern Division as Cincinnati moved one game behind Boston. The Royals edged Los Angeles 107-105, and Boston fell to St. Louis 95-88. New York knocked off Detroit 125-119 in overtime in the other game.

Loren Teall Takes Lead in ABC Tourney

Fires 670 in Minor Events as Oakland Meet Opens

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Loren Teall of Kalamazoo, Mich., rolled a 179-234-257—670 series Sunday to take first place in the singles as the 61st American Bowling Congress tournament moved into the first day of minor events competition.

The 32-year-old service manager for an electrical company, a veteran of seven ABC tournaments, did not commit an error in his big series. He had two splits in the first game.

Robert Petto, a teammate with Teall on the Bowlatorium team of Kalamazoo which took second place in the team event Saturday night, moved into the lead in all-events with 1894. He shot 596 Saturday night and returned Sunday with 604 in doubles and 604 in singles.

Petto and Ellis Bye, another member of the same club, went into first place in the doubles with 1201.

Ron Griggs, who took brief command of the singles and all-events earlier in the day, with 637 and 1798, respectively, was knocked off the top of the standings.

Terry Patterson and Pete Peters, who had taken the doubles lead with 1170, also were quickly unseated.

Griggs, Patterson and Peters are all members of Barney's Boys, the team which took the lead in the regular team event as the ABC opening Saturday night.

Today in History

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, Feb. 24, the 55th day of 1964. There are 311 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1803, Chief Justice John Marshall announced what was described as the most important decision ever handed down by the Supreme Court. The decision came in the Marbury case and held that the Supreme Court had the power to declare invalid any act of Congress considered unconstitutional.

British Say They're Winning Scientists From United States

LONDON (AP)—Home Secretary Henry Brooke claims that Britain is winning scientists from the United States as well as losing many through the highly publicized "brain drain" across the Atlantic.

Brooke told a Conservative party meeting: "There is not so much publicity for those scientists who move from America to Britain, and 140 have moved from the United States to take positions in this country in the last couple of years."

Legion Auxiliary At Sherwood to Back Essay Test

SHERWOOD — Seventh and eighth grade pupils at Harrison and Sacred Heart schools, are being invited to enter the American Legion Auxiliary Americanism essay contest, sponsored by the local unit.

The essay topic is "My American Freedoms and Opportunities." The first place local winner will be entered in state competition. Local entries are due March 14. Mrs. Hilary Miller, is chairman.

The unit also will continue sponsoring a local girl at Badger Girl's State. Your State Income Tax

Payroll Deductions Are Credit Against a Year's Tax Liability

BY NORMAN E. SCHLEY

Withholding and Declaration of Estimated Income Tax

Years ago one Beardsley Ruml advocated a "pay as you go" program for the payment of U. S. income taxes. Prior to the advent of the withholding law, taxpayers were faced with substantial tax bills on the 15th of March. Now (now 15th of April) based on earnings received (and probably spent) from 3 to 15 months previous Wisconsin has happily adopted a similar plan. By withholding the state and federal governments are receiving the taxes on a current month to month basis, and the taxpayer is building payroll period by payroll period, a deposit on wages (if any) by $20.00 or more. Both residents and non-residents are subject to these declaration rules.

Q I inherited my father's home and it has just been rented. Since I have been reporting only wages subject to withholding taxes, what suggestions do you have for me?

A. Maintain detailed records on all receipts and disbursements concerning the property. Sometimes a checking account for this sole purpose is advisable but at all events keep all paid bills or itemize the disbursements by endorsing the purpose on the back of each

New Cub Pack At Darboy Sets First Meeting

DARBOY—The first meeting of newly formed Cub Scout Pack 112 will be held at Holy Angels School hall Feb. 27. The pack has set the fourth Thursday of the month as its regular meeting night.

Robert Meulemans, institutional representative, will present the pack charter to Paul Uitenbroek, Holy Name Society president. The society sponsors the pack. Bobcat awards will be presented to all qualifying cubs. Besides Meulemans, other pack leaders are Gerald Hietpas, committee chairman, Larry Kiel, pack leader, and Greg Hanegraaf, recorder.

Den No 1 meets every Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Larry Kiel, Den Mother. Den No 2 has Mrs. Thomas Tolan as its Den Mother and meets every Saturday morning.

FVL Principal Will Speak at Hortonville

HORTONVILLE — The Rev. Harold Warnke, principal of Fox Valley Lutheran High School, those taxpayers who receive income not subject to withholding day evening meeting of the tax, so that they too might, on Bethlehem Christian Education a quarterly basis build a fund Society of the Lutheran school to meet the anticipated tax liability. Refreshments will be served for the years income. A by Mrs. Wilbur Bachman, Mrs. Wisconsin declaration is required. Russell Barden, Mrs. Francis only if your income tax is paid. Mrs. Duane Bucheltz and expected to exceed withholdings Mrs. Lloyd Collar check issued Obtain a "Declaration of Estimated Income Tax" Form 1-ES and after estimating your additional tax, file the Form by April 15, paying one-fourth of the tax. If you have trouble setting up the depreciation schedule or estimating your income, see your tax attorney or a local certified public accountant.

Q Last year I accepted a job in the local restaurant and earned substantial tips. Should not my employer withhold enough tax? I now face additional taxes, on both my state and federal returns.

A. Unless your tips are reported to your employer there will be no withholding. It will be necessary that you file a declaration of estimated income tax by April 15 and pay one-fourth of the tax due. This of course will be an additional financial burden at this time but by 1965 you should be on a true "pay as you go" basis. A further suggestion—maintain careful records of your tips throughout 1964 and amend your estimate at the end of any quarter, if you find you are receiving more or less in the form of tips than you estimated.

Q My father left a business to my brother and me but the income from it is so erratic that I have trouble filing my declarations for both state and federal taxes. Do you have a suggestion?

A. Yes. Both the U.S. and Wisconsin tax authorities are authorized to accept what is commonly termed the "good faith" basis of filing estimates. Simply stated you use your 1963 income and the 1964 tax rates and allowable exemptions to determine your estimated tax. Even if your income is substantially greater in 1964 no penalties will accrue and you will be considered to have filed the return "in good faith." If business is better in 1964 than in 1963 and you are concerned about additional tax liability at the end of 1964, amend the estimate at the close of any quarter.

Q Twice each year I pay several employees rather substantial bonuses in addition to their weekly salaries. Is there some method for determining the tax to be withheld without reference to the chart?

A. Yes. Supplemental wage payments may either be added to the base pay and the withholding determined from the chart or the alternative method may be used. In this method the flat withholding percentage is 3 per cent where the annual gross salary is not over $4,000, 5 per cent where gross salary is over $4,000, but not over $8,000, 7 per cent where gross salary is over $8,000, but not over $12,000 and 9 per cent on those employees whose annual gross salary will exceed $12,000.

Q. My income tax on income not subject to withholding will be a bit more than $20.00. Can I avoid the preparation of a declaration by having my employer withhold more?

A. Yes.

2 Belgian Teachers Slain as Guerrilla Band Raids Mission

Another Teacher and 3 Jesuit Brothers Wounded

BY ROBIN MANNOCK
LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP)—A young Belgian teacher died trying to shield a woman fleeing from guerrilla warriors who attacked a Jesuit mission in the Congo's Kwilu province.

Jacques Bollaerts, 25, was shot as he ran for safety Saturday when more than 100 rebels attacked Makunzika Mission, 30 miles south of Kikwit, the provincial capital.

In front of him ran Mrs. Odette Raemackers, wife of another teacher. Bollaerts stumbled but kept moving.

Survivors told of the attack today. Another Belgian teacher, Robert Marechal, 21, also was murdered and a Belgian teacher and three Canadian Jesuit brothers were injured.

The mission was stormed by four gangs of young rebel warriors. The revolt in Kwilu is led by former Congolese Education Minister Pierre Mulele, 34, who was trained in Peking.

The attack on Makunzika brought the toll of missionaries and teachers killed by Mulele's men to six. An American woman Baptist missionary and three Belgian Catholic priests were killed last month.

Makunzika mission consisted of five Canadian Jesuit brothers, five Belgian Jesuits, five lay teachers, the wives of two of the teachers and a 6-month-old baby.

All but one of the teachers were employed by the United Nations as part of the world organization's technical assistance to the Congo.

Most of the missionaries were in the hallway of the main building when the rebels burst in. They were made to kneel.

A rebel then fired a home-made musket at Marechal. He fell wounded. Mulele's warriors finished him with axes.

Another teacher, a Mr. Calens, was hit in the head with an arrow. He crumpled and the rebels left him for dead although he was not seriously wounded.

Three Canadian priests were then attacked. Brother Raymond Buissieres of Drummondville, Que., received arrow wounds in both arms as he fought back with bare fists.

Bodies Sought After Skid Row Fire in Illinois

15 Unaccounted for After Old 3-Story Building Burns

KANKAKEE, Ill. (AP)—Several residents of a skid row hotel were believed to have perished in a fire which destroyed an old three-story building today.

But, said Fire Chief John Marquart, "We won't know how many for a long time." Several hours after the roof and floors of the Alamo Hotel dropped in clouds of flame and sparks into the basement, 15 of the 36 listed occupants were not accounted for.

A foot-by-foot search of the debris will be required to establish the death toll, the fire chief said. No bodies were found up to mid-morning. has hose crews continued to soak the still 15 in Walworth County and a hot ashes of the building's interior.

Can't Reach Third Floor
Firemen were not able to reach the third floor where half the tenants lived. A number of persons was taken from the second floor, down a rear fire escape.

At least five residents of the hotel suffered burns. Four were treated at a hospital and released. The fifth, John White, 69, remained in the hospital. Marquart said the skid row hotel, tenanted mainly by men, has been the scene of more than a dozen minor fires in the past five months. Most of the alarms resulted from careless cigarette smoking. Marquart said.

The hotel was virtually gutted by today's fire. There was no immediate estimate of money damage.

The leader of the nation's largest labor union is accused, along with five co-defendants, of trying to fix the jury that heard his conspiracy trial at Nashville in 1962.

The trial begins its sixth week today. In addition to Hoffa, the defense has said it has other witnesses to call. And government attorneys say they will have some rebuttal witnesses.

Hoffa's codefendants are Larry Campbell, Detroit; Nicholas J. Tweel, Huntington, W. Va.; Allen Dorfman, Chicago; and Thomas Parks and Ewing King of Nashville.

Crucial Stage For Thant on Cyprus Crisis

Controversy Over Treaty Provisions Major Obstacle

BY WILLIAM N. OATIS
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.

(AP)—U. N. Secretary-General U Thant reached a crucial stage today in diplomatic talks on his plan to ease the crisis on the smoldering island of Cyprus.

Thant brought British delegate Sir Patrick Dean and Cypriot Foreign Minister Spros Kyprianou together for the first time at a 90-minute Sunday conference in his office. He expressed belief "the picture will be clearer" today.

One U.N. diplomat said Thant had reached a "difficult stage" in his effort to get agreement on an international peace force for Cyprus buttoned up before the Security Council resumes debate Tuesday on the crisis.

Dispute Over Treaty
Thant's efforts were reported snagged by a dispute over a treaty submitted to the 11-nation council should mention the 1960 treaty of guarantee that accompanied the island's grant of independence from Britain.

The treaty says Britain, Turkey and Greece can intervene independently in Cyprus to preserve constitutional arrangements between the Greek and Turkish Cypriots.

The United States, Britain and Turkey interpret this as an authorization for military intervention and want the treaty mentioned.

Greek Position
Greece and the Cypriot government, which is in the hands of the Greek Cypriot majority, oppose any mention of the treaty. They fear it will be used to justify a Turkish invasion to protect the Turkish Cypriot minority. The Greek Cypriot majority wants to end the minority's constitutional rights of veto over various types of legislation.

Dispatches from Cyprus said the Mediterranean island is turning into a vast armed camp as thousands of young men and some women on both sides receive weapons training.

The Greek Cypriots said they were preparing to repel threatened invasion from Turkey, 40 miles off the island's north coast.

Turkish Cypriots said they were getting ready to repel a Greek attack.

Want to Know Whether Television Witnesses Can Be Qualified as Jurors

BY BELMAN MORIN

DALLAS (AP)—Jack Ruby's defense lawyers prepared to fly to the Texas capital today to file a petition for a writ of mandamus before the state supreme court.

The mandamus would involve a ruling on whether persons who viewed on television the shooting of Lee Harvey Oswald by Ruby could serve as jurors.

A mandamus is an order by the supreme court directing certain actions.

The defense claims those who saw the shooting by Ruby of the man accused of assassinating President Kennedy are witnesses and therefore ineligible under Texas law to be jurors in the case.

Joe Tonahill, a defense attorney, talked by telephone with George Templin, clerk of the Texas Supreme Court, in Austin, the capital. He told Templin that he and other defense attorneys would leave Dallas today by private plane.

Falls 1,000 Feet, Breaks Leg in Drift

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Lt. Edward A. Dickson is worried. "While I'm waiting this out, I may have to do a bit of driving. You know, I really dread driving a car. It's damn dangerous."

Dickson, a Navy pilot from Wyoming, Pa., is in Oak Knoll Naval Hospital in Oakland recuperating from a broken right leg—the only major injury he suffered after falling 1,000 feet from his disabled A4 Skyhawk jet with a parachute that wouldn't open.

The plunge last Thursday, at an estimated 120 miles per hour, ended in a deep snow-drift. Only when the 26-year-old flier bounced 50 feet in the air, skidded along the snow and slammed into a pine tree did he realize something had gone wrong.

"As I turned," he said, "I noticed the parachute was still strapped to my back, still in its pack."

"I thought, 'The damn thing didn't open.'"

"Who knows what a chute is supposed to feel like? To me, this was the normal reaction. I'd never bailed out before."

Rescuers found him wrapped in the recalcitrant parachute for warmth.

Has he had enough of flying? "Can't wait to get back in a cockpit."

Nelson Assails Chamber for Attack on Civil Rights Bill

Asserts Commerce Group's View 'False, Misleading'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., said today that Wisconsin State Chamber of Commerce charges against the pending civil rights bill are "false and misleading."

Nelson made public today a letter he had sent Hausheer, contesting statements made in his letter to chamber members.

On Feb. 3 Frank Hausheer of Madison, executive vice president of the state chamber, wrote all members that enactment of the measure would be damaging to Wisconsin business firms.

The attack was centered on title 7 of the bill which relates to racial or religious discrimination in employment. The chamber letter said the measure would create an enormous new bureaucracy in the form of an equal employment opportunity commission.

Great Powers Alleged
The letter said the commission would have sweeping powers to interfere with the operation of Wisconsin firms; that businessmen would be virtually powerless in defending themselves against charges of racial discrimination; that many

Johnson Expects To Get Tax Slash Bill During Week

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress plans to send to President Johnson the $11.3-billion tax cut bill this week before the opening round of the Senate's civil rights battle gets underway.

As soon as Mansfield moves to bring the bill up for consideration, probably late this week, Southern opponents are expected to start their filibuster.

The room is being divided into three sections. A large portion will be devoted to the main library with shelving and tables and the two smaller areas will be used for work rooms, one for science and the other for students using the library.

Work on the main dining room, which was the old high school gymnasium, will consist of blocking up two large windows on the west end and complete redecorating. Original plans called for the ceiling to be lowered but this has now been abandoned. Marvin Obry, superintendent of schools, said.

The old gymnasium has been used as a dining room for high school and elementary pupils since a new gym was completed last summer.

School Taxes at Seymour Down

Education Needs 11.5 Per Cent Less Than in 1961

SEYMOUR — The Seymour tax dollar's share toward schools has been reduced by 11.5 per cent in the past three years.

In 1961, 62.63 per cent of the city's $30 tax rate or $18.79 was allocated for support of the two school districts which then operated independently. By 1963 the percentage had dropped to 51.16 or $16.37, but the rate increased to $22 per $1,000 evaluation. In 1962 the school rate was $17.94 or 59.06 per cent of the $30 city rate.

Meanwhile the share of the local tax dollar going for municipal needs increased accordingly. In 1961 the city share of the $30 rate was $7.97; in 1962, $7.93, and by 1963, $11.55 when the tax rate increased to $32.

State needs took 22 cents of the $30 rate in 1961 or .73 per cent, 23 cents of the $30 rate in 1962, or .77 per cent and 22 cents of the $32 rate in 1963 or .69 per cent.

The county share of the Seymour rate has shown a slight decline in the three-year period. It was $3.86 or 12.87 per cent the first year; $3.84 the second year or 12.3 per cent, and $3.77 the third year or 11.8 per cent.

Nelson Replies To Attack on Civil Rights Bill

showed that charges against the bill were "almost totally false."

"Furthermore," the senator wrote, "I think they do a grave disservice to our democratic system at a time when we are trying to resolve one of the most difficult problems that has confronted us in the past century."

Nelson said no Wisconsin employer need have any fear about the operation of the proposed civil rights law "so long as he does not intend to practice discrimination in hiring."

"Your analysis of the bill," Nelson wrote, "presents a picture of bureaucratic harassment, financial damage and legal helplessness which is simply not justified by the facts."

Nelson said the pending bill specifically directs the proposed equal employment opportunity commission to make agreements with any existing state agencies which are working effectively in the field of employment discrimination.

"Wisconsin already has a fair employment law which is similar to and in some respects broader than title 7 of the pending civil rights bill. Consequently the justice department informs me title 7 of this would impose no significant duties on Wisconsin employers additional to those already imposed by state law."

Ruby Lawyers Ask Writ On TV Murder Viewers

as having formed an opinion about the case or being opposed to the suspended-sentence law in a murder case.

Two factors are contributing to the slow progress.

One is Belli's contention that Ruby can't get a fair trial in Dallas. He says the city is saturated with prejudice, ashamed of the fact that President John F. Kennedy was assassinated here, and is bent on vindicating itself by executing Ruby.

The second factor is that this

Congo Rebels Kill 2, Wound 4 at Mission

Brother Jean Guy Bruneau of Magog, Que., was wounded by an arrow in the arm and one of his fingers was nearly severed. Father Maurice Defocoes of Victoriaville, Que., the mission's superior, was badly beaten.

The injured men were reported in good condition today in Leopoldville's U.N. hospital.

Other Belgian teachers and their wives had watched horrified from another room while Marechal was slaughtered. They decided to make a break for the bushes.

Mrs. Raemackers and her husband went one way, followed by Bollaerts. A Mr. and Mrs. Decraeker and their baby went in another direction and fell into rebel hands.

Just then a Congolese army plane and a U.N. aircraft flew overhead. The rebels ducked into the safety of tall elephant grass. The Decraekers ran.

In the U.N. plane was the organization's army chief of staff James A. Dextraze. He circled back and dropped a note to the fleeing teachers, telling them that soldiers were coming down the road from Kikwit.

All members of the mission were evacuated except a Belgian priest who stayed behind with the mission school children. He was to be brought out today.

Corpses' Hand Grafted to Arm Of Ecuadorian

BOSTON (AP)—Two doctors at Peter Bent Brigham Hospital reported today that the first transplant of a human limb from a corpse to a live person has been performed in Guayaquil, Ecuador.

The two Boston surgeons reported that the operation was performed last week on a 28-year-old Ecuadorian sailor who had lost his right hand in an accident.

Dr. Roberto Gilbert, chief surgeon at the Clinica Guayaquil, replaced the missing hand and forearm with one from a man who had recently died in another hospital in Ecuador.

Drs. Richard W. Wilson and Robert M. Goldwyn of the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital flew down to the South American country by invitation last Tuesday.

Dr. Gilbert had contacted the year has caught up with C. C. Green of Wichita Falls. When Green found a wallet containing $1,100 in Brownwood, Tex., he handed it over to police for return to the owner.

In turn he received a telephone call from Wichita Falls police headquarters Saturday. Somebody had found Green's wallet and turned it in. Green didn't even know he'd lost it. It contained $439.

it will follow a more independent foreign policy and edge closer to Red China.

Chou repaid Ayub with support for a plebiscite in Kashmir, the chief Pakistani demand since the dispute erupted in 1947 with massive bloodshed. Moslem Pakistan assumes that Kashmir's predominantly Moslem populace would vote to break away from Hindu India.

Pakistani newspapers said Ayub agreed to support China's bid for a seat in the United Nations in return for Chou's backing on Kashmir. Ayub told newsmen earlier that the United Nations was not representative of mankind as long as Red China remained outside its doors.

Return Good Measure For Man's Good Deed

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP)—A good deed performed last year has caught up with C. C. Green of Wichita Falls.

When Green found a wallet containing $1,100 in Brownwood, Tex., he handed it over to police for return to the owner.

In turn he received a telephone call from Wichita Falls police headquarters Saturday. Somebody had found Green's wallet and turned it in. Green didn't even know he'd lost it. It contained $439.

is the first death case in which the killing was seen on television.

Cameras recorded the instant when Ruby, a Dallas night club operator, killed Lee Harvey Oswald, who had been charged with the assassination of Kennedy.

Witnesses Disqualified

Belli contends, again and again, that anyone who saw the televised scene is a witness. Under Texas law, he argues, such persons are disqualified to serve as jurors. The prosecution disputes this interpretation of the law, and Brown has ruled with Wade.

In questioning jury candidates, Ruby's attorneys ask: "Did you see the television of the shooting of Oswald?"

If the prospect says he has, the defense asks him to describe what he saw.

Then, Ruby's lawyers ask the prospective juror if he was "horrified" or "upset." Or they often ask: "And you will carry this memory to your grave, won't you?"

Should the prospect agree, the defense immediately moves to disqualify him as incapable of judging Ruby impartially.

Heated Arguments

This touches off heated wrangles with the prosecution. It grew so fierce last week that Brown warned a defense lawyer, Joe Tonahill, he was bordering on being in contempt of court.

Ruby watches the proceedings closely. He frequently chews gum, confers in whispers with his attorneys. He sometimes nods or smiles at reporters sitting behind his chair. Occasional ally, when lawyers point him out to a prospective juror, he nods toward the man or woman on the witness stand.

"He's becoming more tense as the days go by," Belli said, "but generally he's holding up well."

"Isn't This Ridiculous?" That is the remark of Mrs. Erma Thompson, 55, Houston, Texas, in a Houston hospital after Michael Landon's paint mare bit off the end of her finger after Saturday night's performance of the Houston Livestock Show rodeo. Landon, who plays "Little Joe" on the television program 'Bonanza,' went to the hospital to console Mrs. Thompson. (AP Wirephoto)

Proxmire Warns Of Inflation in Economic Boom

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., said this expansion is due to anticipated late 1963 production figures show a boom is under way. Even before effects of the tax argument are felt, and that there is danger of inflation.

In a prepared Senate speech, Proxmire said "the fourth quarter of 1963 showed an increase state and local government purchases of nearly $11.5 billion in the fourth quarter." He listed these items as including automobiles, exports, gross national product — the largest quarterly advance in danger flags are flying. Put the over two and a half years. This tax cut on top of these boom indicates an increasingly vigorous economic expansion.

budget with a year or so. Because of the tax cut, however, we are indefinitely continuing budget deficits.

"The argument has been made," Proxmire said, "that the tax cut will definitely disprove this argument. The items that are created the most are those least affected by the tax cut."

Damned By What You Say?

A noted publisher in Chicago reports a simple technique of everyday conversation which can pay you real dividends in social and business advancement and works like magic to give you poise, self-confidence and greater popularity.

According to this publisher, many people do not realize how much they could influence others simply by what they say and how they say it. In business, at social functions, or even in casual conversations, there are ways to make a good impression every time you talk.

To acquaint the readers of this paper with the easy-to-follow rules for developing skill in every day conversation, the publishers have printed full details of their interesting self-training method in a new book, "Adventures in Conversation"—mailed free to anyone who requests it. No obligation. Send your request to: Conversation, 835 Diversey Pky., Dept. C012, Chicago, Ill. 60614. A postcard will do.

Wisconsin Senator Criticizes Sale of Wheat to Russia

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sale of U.S. wheat to Russia was criticized today by Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., who said the case against it grows stronger every day.

At the same time, he said, this provides no justification for the sale by Britain or other countries of buses or other goods to Cuba.

"Two wrongs do not make a right," Proxmire said. "The fact that we made a mistake in selling wheat to the Soviet Union is no excuse for Britain to sell goods to Cuba."

President Johnson's action in cutting off even token aid to Britain, France and Yugoslavia, Proxmire said, should be an indication of how strongly the United States provides 160 times the market for Britain compared with possible sales to Cuba, and added:

"If the United States to only a modest degree should show its disapproval of British sales to Cuba by not buying from the British firms which trade with Cuba, Britain's policy would not even pay off commercially."

Black Clouds on the Weather Map

While all Wisconsinites are glorying in the beautiful winter weather we have experienced this season we must also realize that we may pay terrific penalties in the months to come.

Florida and Arizona and California could offer nothing particularly attractive weather-wise to us northerners this winter. The snow-blowers haven't been trundled out of the garage once, those heavy winter overcoats were really only necessary during that brief spell of zero temperatures in December. The Fox River is now open all the way from Lake Winnebago to Green Bay.

But the lack of snow, extending a state

Stalemate in Viet Nam

The new wave of terrorism in Viet Nam, in which several American servicemen have been killed and many more seriously wounded, is particularly frustrating because there seems little way in which the Americans can fight back. Yet it would seem that if South Viet Nam is to be saved from communism, some amount of reprisals become necessary.

The two military coups encouraged the Communist Viet Cong to step up their attacks and guerrilla raids. Certainly President De Gaulle's proposals for neutralization of the area (though not, strangely enough, of North Viet Nam), added new encouragement. Cambodia is probably actively aiding the Viet Cong at least through supplies and providing a place for arms to be smuggled in. Chaos-ridden Laos is another area of refuge. The borders are not closely guarded.

The new strong man, General Nguyen Khanh, has indicated a determination to fight and so far there have been no charges by our State Department representatives that maybe he isn't running a democracy. But it will take more than such determination if the Viet Cong are to lose out in Viet Nam. And only through their defeat can the Communist government in the north probably lose its popular support enough to bring up the possibility of revolt.

But apparently there is increasing encouragement from the United States to bring the war to the north. This does not mean direct attacks across the partition.

'Sabin on Sunday'

The Outagamie County Medical Society deserves the gratitude of all citizens for undertaking the "Sabin On Sunday" mass immunization project as a continuing fight to stamp out polio completely.

Members of the Society, assisted by other volunteers, will administer the oral Sabin vaccine at public clinics in Appleton, New London, Kimberly, Kaukauna, Seymour and Hortonville on March 8 and April 19—both Sundays.

Medical men emphasize it is important that persons who receive the vaccine at the first clinic also get the followup dose at

Panama's Pressure From Both Sides

Panama's 1962 Agrarian Reform code has as part of its purpose the redistribution of some of the land owned in large parcels and the cultivation of acres now lying idle and undeveloped. But opposition to putting the code into effect is coming from two sources: the conservatives, especially those with large land holdings, and the rural peasants or campesinos who are supposed to be resettled.

Conservative opposition can be expected and it certainly is used to stir up opposition to the United States by trying to pass on the blame for poverty in Panama. But the dragging of feet among the campesinos, who are supposed to be the beneficiaries of the code, is a little more involved.

In general it is being led by Communists and other far-left elements, many of them students. Peasants who have illegally squatted on land which they have been cultivating are encouraged not to

106 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for Feb. 27, 1864.

New York, Feb. 23, 1864—A Washington letter says advances from near Charleston report that some 15,000 troops have been dispatched by the rebels of Tallahassee, Fla., for the purpose of disputing the advance of our forces upon that place. Part of these troops are said to have been sent from Georgia and the remainder from Beauregard's army.

If the number of rebel troops be correctly stated, the opposing armies will be very nearly matched when they meet.

Knoxville, Feb. 21, 1864 — The rebels have broken up their winter quarters at Morristown and are in force on Strawberry Plains. They have completed two pontoon drought of over a year's duration, may have serious consequences. Moisture is desperately needed for our soil before spring planting begins. The level of Lake Michigan and other Great Lakes is at an all-time low, which can have serious consequences for the shipping industry. The hatch of walleye was destroyed by low water in the Wolf River last year and the same may happen for the second year in a row. And this is only one example of the effects of drought on fish and wildlife. There will be hazardous conditions in our valuable state forests soon.

The back of winter is now broken and it has been a truly remarkable one. But we will be paying for our comfort soon.

But Khanh is being encouraged to send in more saboteur teams to wreck northern industry, railroads and public works. Surely all the Vietnamese living in the north cannot be enthusiastically in favor of the government of Ho Chi Minh.

Apparently the alternative to winning this war, even by the slow and frustrating means now employed, is the conquest of Southeast Asia by the Communists. Even Thailand could not succeed in remaining independent and its government is not now as staunchly pro-Western as it once was. Indonesia's Sukarno would get along with the Communists as long as they permitted him to run his country. Malaysia would be embattled.

The idea of a neutral Southeast Asia appears to be visionary. Certainly we cannot force a people to fight against communism if they do not wish to or if it matters little to them who runs the government. But in no time there would be fractures among the various small countries and of course the Soviet Union or Red China or both would have to intervene to keep the peace.

The war in Viet Nam is as exasperating if not as dreadful as was the Korean War. The latter may have dissuaded the Soviet Union from moving in on every small nation in the way. Only through our continuing the present war in Viet Nam can the Asian Communists be similarly dissuaded. But it is essential that the Vietnamese themselves give more indication that they understand what the war is about and that they really intend to win it.

The Medical Society is to be congratulated for its community service project, but at the same time a responsibility lies with all of us to take advantage of the "Sabin on Sunday" effort.

move. They are told to demand the breaking up of cultivated acres and not the distribution of those lying fallow. And the Reds are distributing leaflets claiming that the code is too little or a token reform effort or once again dictated by the Yanqui imperialist.

The aim of the Reds is two-fold. If the reform code fails, the government of a moderate variety will have failed and communism will gain that many more converts. Or if the government is forced to legislate more radical forms of land reform, once again the left-wing will have won.

The campesinos can be excused to some extent for their efforts to torpedo the land reform. But the rich and the prosperous have no excuse except their monumental blindness in refusing to see that absence of reform increases the chances of a bloody revolution in which they would lose everything.

bridges on the plains and two brigades of infantry are across with some cavalry, which skirmished yesterday with our cavalry six miles out from here. They were then driven back to the river.

Gen. Haskell, with a regiment of infantry and a battalion of cavalry, encountered their forces two miles out, capturing nine of them and killing six or seven.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Feb. 23, 1864 — The latest reports repeat without confirming (rebel) Longstreet's retreat across French Broad River. It is thought here that, having failed to accumulate a force sufficient enough for prompt and energetic action against our communications, he had grown fearful of concentrations against him or Johnston and now is endeavoring to form a junction with the latter before

Legal Counsel to Governor Replies to Letter by Mr. Cuff

Editor, Post-Crescent:

I would like to reply to a letter from O. P. Cuff, published in your paper Feb. 8.

Mr. Cuff was critical of Governor Reynolds because the governor had threatened to use his veto power in the dispute with the legislature over a tax program. Mr. Cuff was also critical of the governor with respect to the governor's fight to make his own appointments.

With respect to the use of the veto, it is not only the governor's power but his responsibility under Article 6, Section 10 of the Wisconsin Constitution.

The governor had threatened to use the veto in the event that the legislature insisted on passage of a general sales tax which would tax such commodities as food, clothing and medicine. Governor Reynolds has always stated that such a tax falls most heavily on people who can least afford it, such as those who are unemployed or on Social Security, and that such a tax was the most unfair kind of tax conceivable. He always felt it was his duty to veto such a tax, if passed.

With respect to appointments which the statutes provide are to be made by the governor, he has been blocked by a hostile Republican-controlled senate which has either rejected many of his appointees without a hearing and without giving reasons or they have sent the names back to the governor without a hearing or without reasons.

The question here is whether the governor has a right to make appointments where the state statutes give him such authority and where they also provide that the appointments are subject to senate confirmation.

Governor Reynolds has twice gone before the Supreme Court to determine what his powers are in these matters when he seeks to make an appointment to a position where the existing office holder's term has long ago expired.

The Supreme Court has twice upheld his authority to make appointments of his own choice. In the first case, the court stated that he can replace hold-over appointees whose terms have expired as soon as the legislature concludes its session. In the second case, the Supreme Court ruled that where the senate rejects an appointee of the governor the governor may reappoint such person to the same office. This is nothing more than many governors have successfully done in the past.

I hope this letter clarifies some of the questions raised by Mr. Cuff.

Was State Tax Dept. Too Optimistic in Its Forecasts of Revenue?

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
MADISON—The solemn disclosure by Tax Commissioner George Corning that state tax receipts for the last five months have been some $5 million below the sums calculated earlier is important primarily for its revelation of the fragility of the "balanced" budget achieved after so much struggle last summer.

On the face of it nobody can draw any reliable conclusions from a tax collection record representing only five months of a two-year period. Dozens of causes could reverse the trend. Corning, indeed at a news conference said he is not worried about the matter. But he took the trouble to call in capitol correspondents, nevertheless, which betrays a certain perturbation in the finance offices of the state administration whatever he may say for publication.

Nobody could seriously criticize the fiscal officers if it turned out that they were in error by the amounts that the $5 million decline below estimates now indicates is possible. It would be a small percentage of error, in a very difficult field. Perhaps no estimator in any level of government can do better.

But the incident recalls that in other times the margin of error was on the side of surplus. There was a time when the Budget Bureau specialists tended to be conservative, with the result that at the end of a fiscal period an incoming administration and legislature usually had a larger balance than had been foretold on the record.

GAMBLE?

The recent incident raises the question whether there was not a temptation to estimate on the optimistic side during the crisis atmosphere in legislative-gubernatorial relations last year, as a means of resolving the stalemate. It would have been a very human reaction to a difficult, tiresome and politically hazardous situation.

There is always a political margin of safety in such situations, in the fact that the state budget extends beyond the convening of the new legislature.

Thus if it should turn out that there is a deficit in the Gov. Reynolds budget during this term, it won't necessarily mean that there will be payless paydays or a suspension of aids to localities or any of the other melancholy results so frequently talked about. The legislature will be back in its chambers by next Jan. 1, and it could then take emergency measures to expand revenues to fit the commitments running through June 30.

But more important than the possible margin of error by a few percentage points in the yield of tax dollars from the people of Wisconsin is the fact that the state treasury historically has been operated with a pretense of precision that is absurd on its face.

Last fall Gov. Reynolds convinced a skeptical legislature that there would be a relatively substantial surplus. Against the better judgment of some of the Republican leadership, the lawmakers proceeded to whittle down the theoretical figure of $11 million. Now Mr. Corning is plainly worried that erroneous guesses about income may eat that away and more.

Strictly Personal
Communist Doctrine Has One Vital Flaw

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

Every wrong theory is its own refutation: this is the strength of truth, and the weakness of error. When we say that "truth will prevail," it is more than a sentimental statement or a pious hope. It is a fact.

Consider the basic assumption of Marxism. It is that man is primarily a materialistic creature, dominated by economic impulses—and these impulses are ultimately the decisive ones in shaping human history.

But Karl Marx himself is a refutation of this theory. When he composed the "Communist Manifesto," he was not acting on materialistic or economic motives, but on moral and philosophical ones.

He was not a proletarian, nor underprivileged. He came from a comfortable bourgeois family, had a good education, and was not driven to his revolutionary doctrine by need or desperation.

And the minority of men who made the Russian Revolution possible were not dispossessed workers, but intellectuals, students, defectors from middle-class environments. They were not acting from economic motives, but from the same moral and philosophical drives that animated Marx. This is why Marxism has become, in a way, a modern "religion." If it were true that men acted only, or mainly, for material considerations, there would be no self-sacrifice, no heroism, no placing of principles above comfort and safety. Marx himself, as his father once suggested in a letter, would have been content "to make capital rather than to write about it."

The Marxian theory tries to explain a great deal about human society, and some of its early critiques were valid and necessary; but the one thing it left out, the one thing it could not explain, was the reason that men like Marx and Engels placed themselves in jeopardy and disgrace for an ideal that would not benefit them and which they would never live to see.

This is the decisive factor in history, and not the bare economic motive. And it is this omission that makes Marxism so tragically wrong and one-sided: by reducing man to an economic animal, it denigrates the very kind of spiritual activity that was its own origin and motive-power. Ideologically, it contains the seeds of its own destruction.

The real battle is not between communism and capitalism, as we mistakenly think; it is between materialism and the human spirit. Our materialism is more successful than Russia's — but if, in the process, we diminish the human spirit, we will be betraying the American dream just as much as Marx unwittingly betrayed his own Messianic hopes.

Agnew Cited as First Democrat To Head State Agriculture Board

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MADISON — The incident passed without much notice, but the election of Arnie Agnew of Rock County as new chairman of the state board of agriculture marked the rise of a Democrat to top rank in that chief agency for the first time in the memory of the oldest living inhabitant of the capitol.

The event has no necessary relation to the staffing of administrative services of the department. Most of the employees, as in other agencies, are under civil service regulations. The board also made it clear that Director Donald McDowell will stay.

But it puts into the key seat a widely known farmer of Democratic viewpoints, after decades of control by Republicans and before the Republicans, by the Progressives of LaFollette persuasion.

Appointment Power

Nearly six years have passed since the Democrats won the governor's office and the power to make appointments. The tardy achievement of control by the Democratic administration in this and other major service agencies was due in part to the reluctance or refusal of the Republican senate to confirm the nominees of Democratic governors, but more particularly, to the deliberate policy of staggered term appointments to most of the governing boards.

Most appointments are for six-year terms and vacancies occur at two-year intervals, so that in the majority of cases a Democratic or Republican regime requires two victories at the polls in succession — even with a cooperative senate — to take over policy control of the major boards and commissions.

Madison area Democrats are talking about electing Assemblyman Norman Anderson of Madison as speaker of the state assembly next January, if they win the assembly majority in the fall elections as their state headquarters leaders are now assuring them is likely.

LaFollette Candidacy

The candidacy of Bronson C. LaFollette of Madison for the Democratic nomination for attorney general is now virtually assured, but he won't announce the fact for a while because he is employed as an attorney in the U. S. prosecutor's office here and is technically ineligible to take an active role in partisan politics without resigning the job.

It is a relatively ambitious goal for a young man of 27, but Madison remembers LaFollette's father, the late Robert M. LaFollette Jr., who ran for the U. S. senate and won when he was only a few years older. The young politician's grandfather, Robert M. LaFollette Sr., and his uncle, Philip F. LaFollette, started more modestly, but at about the same age when they ran for Dane County district attorney. Both won.

The resignation of Bill Dyke as aide to Lt. Gov. Jack Olson is interpreted as meaning that he is actively interested in running for the Republican nomination for Second District congressman.

Republicans in the capital city area have been worried about fielding an apt candidate, and they apparently have had some difficulty in assuring a reasonable campaign chest for the fight against Rep. Robert Kastemeier.

School Districts

The gradual disappearance of operating school districts in the state continues. The state department of public instruction gives the latest total count of districts of all kinds at 733, the lowest on record and less than 10 per cent of the number that operated before the school consolidation drive started with reluctant legislation about 20 years ago.

David Carley, former Nelson administration official and 1962 Democratic nominee for lieutenant governor, is passing out broad hints that he will run again this year in spite of some complications involving his new job in private business.

Carley's determined campaign for nomination as delegate from the Madison district to the national convention showed his deep desire to keep in sight as a party politician. Chances are he could have another nomination for the No. 2 place on the state ticket for the asking.

Patrick Lucey

The talk about Patrick J. Lucey as a candidate has cooled since his new involvement in the intramural Democratic organization fight.

Sen. Richard Zaborski of Milwaukee, the Democratic minority leader in the senate, apparently prefers to wait for the Republicans to confirm his nomination by Gov.

Ed Johnson, of the League of Wisconsin Municipalities, has asked legislators to look into electronic voting devices recently developed, which it is claimed can handle local elections more economically than the standard voting machines. Such devices are not permitted under present Wisconsin law. Johnson and other city spokesmen are concerned about the cost to localities under the new law which requires all cities of more than 10,000 to replace paper balloting procedures with machine voting. Such a change-over will be a burden to some communities, they complain.

"What," asked the miller's friend, "are those 3 doors for?"

"Those are for my 3 dogs to go thru," replied the miller.

S. Viet Nam Situation Becomes More Puzzling

Government Reports Make Situation More Puzzling

BY JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's becoming more of a puzzle than a war.

Nobody in this government, past or present, has given the American people a cold, factual report on what's happening or what's in store in South Viet Nam. Various official statements create confusion.

South Viet Nam, after eight years of help from the United States in its war with the Red guerrillas of North Viet Nam, apparently is losing ground.

This country has over 15,000 troops there, supposedly as advisers although some have been killed in the front lines, and has pumped in over $5 billion in aid.

Here are some points that puzzle Americans and probably Vietnamese, too:

Many Questions

Why haven't the latter done more to win? Can they ever do better? Is this country just going to go on rocking along with them? Will it finally give up and pull out? Or will it try to step up the war?

South Viet Nam has had three governments since October but the situation is worse now than before:

President Ngo Dinh Diem, who was in charge eight years but not successfully, was killed when a military junta took over in a coup. The junta was thrown out in a new coup by Maj Gen Nguyen Khanh.

Last Jan. 27 Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara told Congress the situation was "grave." The next day he said "I am encouraged by the progress of the past two weeks."

Last week Congress released more of what he said: That even if the war does not go well we should still withdraw most American troops by 1965. He said the Vietnamese had the primary responsibility for winning the war.

Over the weekend one report from Washington said there was division between the Defense Department and the State Department on what to do. It said some State Department officials felt McNamara's statement on pulling out was bad public relations because it might encourage the Communists.

Pull-Out Idea

Also last week Sen Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Democrats' Senate leader, applauded McNamara's pull-out idea and urged consideration of French President Charles de Gaulle's proposal to neutralize Viet Nam.

Neutralization has hazards. It could be interpreted simply as an American face-saving device for pulling out of a tough situation. Neutralization, once the Americans were gone, might open the door for a Communist take-over of all Viet Nam.

Then last Friday President Johnson said this country will continue to honor its commitment to South Viet Nam to help it fight communism.

Previously he had seemed to dismiss De Gaulle's neutralization idea but at another time he said he would look with sympathy on neutralization of all Viet Nam, North and South.

But Johnson added something else which was truly a puzzle. Pointing to those "outside enemies" who direct "terror and violence" against South Viet Nam, he said they "could do well to remember that this type of aggression is a deeply dangerous game."

But this is exactly the kind of aggression the North Vietnamese Reds have been using for years, except that recently they began assassinating Americans.

Was Johnson hinting at stepping up the war against North Viet Nam in some way, say through South Vietnamese guerrilla attacks on it? Or what? If the United States took part in a direct attack it might mean war with Red China.

The Lenten Story

BY WOODE ISHMAEL

THE WIDOW'S MITE

Shortly after driving the money changers from the temple, Jesus stood in the doorway and watched people coming to make their contributions. He saw that some of the rich gave a great deal, while others were not generous.

Then a poor widow approached and dropped two mites, the smallest denomination possible, into the box.

Calling His disciples, Jesus explained to them the true meaning of charity:

"Verily I say unto you, That this poor widow hath cast more in than all they which have cast into the treasury; For all they did cast in of their abundance; but she of her want did cast in all that she had, even all her living." (Mark XII:43-44)

Food, Housing and Cars Figure in Federal Index

BY SYLVIA PORTER

A week from tomorrow, the Bureau of Labor Statistics will release its long-awaited overhaul of the market basket of goods and services it prices each month to compute the consumer price index — the only measure we have of changes in our cost of living and often called "the most important single statistic issued by the government."

By far the most striking points about the revised market basket will be the extent to which it downgrades food and upgrades houses and automobiles as items in a city family's spending budget.

Just these three changes in the statistical weights given to food, housing and cars will dramatize more than millions of words the enormous shifts in our spending patterns since the early 1950s and the type of society in which we are living today.

They will reflect the great

rise in our real incomes in the past 10 years—meaning our incomes after taxes and adjustments for price increases. They will underline our surge to suburban living and the population movement from North and East to South and West. They will highlight the increasing dominance of teenagers and older people in our economy.

Above all, they will pound home the fundamental fact that despite pools of jobless and pockets of poverty, we are the richest and most mobile nation the world has ever known.

The BLS is keeping its new index a secret until March 3, of course, but a close study of the results of its consumer spending surveys in 1961 and 1962 flashes clear signals of what it will show.

In the new index, food will take the smallest share in history of our spending dollar.

The present index figures the typical city family spends 28.1 cents of every after-tax dollar on food eaten at home and away from home. In the new index, this will be way down to not more than 23 cents, possibly even less. This reflects the fact that we have been earmarking a decreasing proportion of each spending dollar for food as our incomes have risen.

We're spending a record total of dollars on food, yes—but the share of each dollar going to this essential of life has shrunk.

In the updated index, housing will take the largest share in history of our spending dollar.

The present index figures the typical city family spends 30.7 cents of each dollar on housing. In the new index, this will be way up, probably to more than 33 cents and most of the rise will reflect the upsurge in homeownership. We are spending more to buy and finance our houses than a decade ago, more on real estate taxes and insurance, more on operating and heating our homes. We are a nation of homeowners and suburban families as never before.

In the next index ownership and servicing of cars will take the biggest chunk ever of our spending dollar.

New Approach Needed In U. S. Foreign Aid, OSC Students Are Told

OSHKOSH — Approaches and changes in U.S. foreign aid were explained to Wisconsin State College-Oshkosh students and staff members by Arthur Darkin, government specialist in international affairs.

Darkin said one of the major problems confronting foreign aid planning is the lack of skills among the underdeveloped countries of the world, especially the newly emerging nations. The Marshall Plan was very successful, he said, because it dealt with countries possessing the basic skills, and the main need was for capital, which the Marshall Plan supplied. This is not the case with most of the countries now receiving assistance, Darkin said. They require a different approach to foreign aid.

The speaker traced the history of foreign aid, pinpointing objectives of military security, governmental stability and economic developments which have been predominate in our foreign aid plans at various stages.

The present index figures private transportation takes 10.1 cents of each after-tax dollar and public transportation takes 1.7 cents. There is no question that the share going to private transportation will be up a couple of pennies and the share going to public transportation will be down. Because prices of new cars have been stable while the general price level has been rising in recent years, this may not show up in the weight given to new cars in the marketbasket but it will show up in every other sphere—the shares going to used cars, gas and oil, auto parts and services.

You don't need any government report to tell you that the role played by public transportation—railroads, buses, subways—has been dwindling.

For years the government has been basing its consumer price index on a pattern of spending which had ceased to exist. For far too long an obviously obsolete index has been critically influencing the wages of millions of workers, the psychology of consumers and businessmen, the policies of Congress and financiers.

Now, the CPI again will be measuring price changes in the marketbasket actually bought by real families living in real cities today.

Paper Veteran
To 'Home Base'

Absence From National Session
First in 27 Years

This will be the first time in 27 years that Appleton's Casper E. Youngchild will miss a National Paper Week meeting.

Youngchild, unwillingly anchored to home base, originally planned to attend sessions in New York City with his physician, Dr. Guy Carlson, but was forced to cancel his plans after falling and injuring his leg. Paper week activities started to day.

A veteran in the paper industry, Youngchild started his career at 16, cutting paper for the for manufacturing. While working, for two years he took correspondence courses from the University of Wisconsin.

Consultant Engineer

Since his retirement in 1945, Youngchild has been working out of a paneled study in his home as a consultant engineer to paper mills all over the U. S. and Canada.

Five years ago, at 77, he executed a consulting assignment in Germany and Italy.

His humanitarian rather than his professional side has assured his name a special place in years to come. In July, 1962, Youngchild donated $1 million to Lawrence College for construction of the Casper E. Youngchild Hall of Science, the largest individual donation ever made to the school.

PRIMARY ELECTION

March 10, 1964

STATE OF WISCONSIN } ss Office of County Clerk

COUNTY OF OUTAGAMIE }

To the Electors of Outagamie County:

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that an election is to be held in the several towns, wards, villages and election precincts in the County of Outagamie on the 10th day of March, 1964, at which the officers named below are to be chosen. The names of the candidates whose nominations have been certified to this office, are given under the title of the office and under the appropriate party or other designation, each in its proper column, in the sample ballot below.

Information to Voters

The following instructions are given for the information and guidance of voters.

A voter upon entering the polling place and giving his name and residence will receive a ballot from the ballot clerk which must have indorsed thereon the names or initials of both ballot clerks, and no other ballot can be used. Upon receiving his ballot, the voter must retire alone to a booth or compartment and prepare the same for voting. A ballot clerk may inform the voter as to the proper manner of marking his ballot, but he must not advise or indicate in any manner whom to vote for.

At a nonpartisan primary election, the voter shall place a cross or other mark in the square at the right of the name of the candidate for whom he intends to vote, or by inserting or writing in the name of any other candidate.

The ballot should not be marked in any other manner. If the ballot be spoiled, it must be returned to the ballot clerk, who must issue another in its stead, but not more than three in all shall be issued to any one voter. Five minutes' time is allowed in booth to mark ballot. Unofficial ballots or memorandum to assist the voter in marking his ballot can be taken into the booth, and may be used to copy from. The ballot must not be shown so that any person can see how it has been marked by the voter.

After it is marked it should be folded so that the inside cannot be seen, but so that the printed indorsements and signatures of the ballot clerks on the outside may be seen. Then the voter should pass out of the booth or compartment, give his name to the inspector in charge of the ballot box, hand him his ballot to be placed in the box, and pass out of the voting place.

A voter, who declares to the presiding officer that he is unable to read, or that by reason of physical disability he is unable to mark his ballot, can have assistance of two election officers in marking same, to be chosen by the voter; and if he declares that he is visually handicapped, he may have anyone assist him in marking his ballot or operating a voting machine. The presiding officer may administer an oath in his discretion, as to such person's disability.

The following is a facsimile of the official ballot:

Tormenting Rectal Itch
Stopped In Minutes

Science Finds New Healing Substance That
Promptly Stops Itching and Pain of Piles

New York, N. Y. (Special) — One of the most common afflictions is a condition known as "itching piles." It is most embarrassing for the victim during the day and especially aggravating at night.

No matter what you've used without results — here's good news. For the first time, science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to promptly stop the burning itch and pain. It actually shrinks hemorrhoids — without surgery. Medical science has proved this substance produces a remarkably effective rate of healing. Its germ-killing properties also help prevent infection.

In one hemorrhoid case after another "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations. This improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of months! Among these sufferers were a wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' duration.

The secret is this new healing substance (Bio-Dyne²) — discovery of a world-famous research institution. This substance is now obtainable in ointment or suppository form known as Preparation H². Ask for Preparation H² Suppositories (convenient to carry if away from home) or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Available at all drug counters.

Kimberly WCOF Names Nominating Committee

KIMBERLY — A nominating committee was named to prepare a slate of officers for consideration at the March 19 meeting at a meeting of the Women's Catholic Order of Foresters.

Named were Mrs. Albert Ruys, Mrs. John Van Elzen and Mrs. Marie Wydevan. Plans were made for a corporate communion for adult and juvenile members to be held during the 3:30 a.m. March 15 mass.

Appleton Man Gets 1 Year Probation

Paulie C. Stuard, 25, 829 W. Eighth St., was placed on probation for one year last week after he pleaded guilty to disorderly conduct. He appeared in Outagamie County Court Branch 2.

Stuard was charged by Appleton police after he had shot himself in the left shoulder with a small pistol while Appleton police tried to talk him into giving up the gun. Stuard has been hospitalized since the shooting Feb. 14.

WSES Orders More Hiring of Minority Groups

MADISON (AP) — The Wisconsin State Employment Service (WSES) announced that the agency's district offices have been ordered to promote expanded employment opportunities for members of minority groups.

F. J. Walsh, employment service director, said all offices of the agency will support the U.S. Labor Department's equal employment opportunity program and "take aggressive action" to carry out the State Industrial Commission's fair employment practices law.

In a letter to district managers, Walsh said it is "essential that WSES offices insure that minority group job seekers are referred to job openings for which they qualify."

"We should be alert, however," Walsh added, "to the needs of individuals for such special WSES services as counseling to encourage them to secure training in order to qualify for jobs, or to change unacceptable work habits and attitudes that constitute obstacles to employment."

Swedish Prince Likes His Life As a Bachelor

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Prince Bertil of Sweden, opening a Sweden Week exhibition in San Francisco, was asked at a news conference how he felt about being regarded as one of Europe's most eligible bachelors.

"That sounds like a joke to me," replied the 52-year-old prince.

"I'm getting on, you know. But I'm quite happy as I am I go all around the world, and—well, don't you think I look happy?"

Jail Appleton Man Who Lost Control of Car, Stopped on Lawn

Glen S. Wolosek, 27, 413 1/2 N. Bennett St., was jailed by Appleton police Saturday after he apparently lost control of the car he was driving and skidded more than 300 feet on N. Meade Street.

Wolosek told police he was going south on Meade when he hit a hole in the road and lost control of the vehicle, owned by Norbert J. Destiche, Green Bay, Wolosek's employer.

The car skidded about 240 feet, hit a mailbox at 3042 N. Meade, skidded another 50 feet, clipping a utility pole, and continued 40 feet more before stopping on the front lawn at 3036 N. Meade, authorities said.

Police said Wolosek did not have a driver's license and was apparently traveling at a high rate of speed when the mishap occurred.

Lawyer Tells of Courts' Abuse Of Authority

Steady Erosion of Citizens' Rights Is Warned Against

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—Many readers are complaining that they do not get in their newspapers or on the radio or television both sides of the controversy over the constitutional points involved in the "civil rights" legislation before Congress.

When, therefore, a lawyer born and raised in New York City — educated in its schools and colleges, and practicing law there for the last 17 years — writes an article exposing an abuse of power by courts as well as enforcement agencies in states and cities throughout this country and declares that there is a steady erosion of the rights of citizens, it would seem to be worthy of widespread attention.

The "American Bar Association Journal," which is published in Chicago, evidently thought so, as it printed in its current issue the article by Edward F. Cummerford entitled "Civil Rights and Civil Wrongs." He wrote in part:

"While no decent person will defend racial or religious hate, it does not follow that every possible action taken to eliminate is either good or necessary. "Prohibition was termed a 'noble experiment,' but it did more harm than good, for the simple reason that it abridged personal freedom without sufficient justification. The same basic error permeates much of the civil-rights activity now in vogue. To condemn these activities no more makes one a proponent of bias than to oppose prohibition made one a bootlegger or a drunkard."

Typical Pattern
"In the legislative field the typical pattern has been enactment of a statute with an enforcing agency. Although these 'antibias' laws vary in detail from one jurisdiction to another, they usually declare illegal 'discrimination' in such areas as employment, housing, public accommodations and resorts, public transportation and, sometimes, education.

"About half our states and some municipalities now have such laws; many with enforcing agencies. . . . Invariably these agencies begin their work in an unobtrusive manner, but, with the passage of time, they often become increasingly aggressive, seeking more powers, asking broader areas in which to operate and harsher punitive measures for alleged offenders.

Appeals Court
"Some have stated very candidly that, if enough complaints are not filed to keep them busy, they will go out searching for examples of bias. Frequently they query employers as to the proportions of races and creeds so, as it printed in its current issue the article by Edward F. Cummerford entitled 'Civil Rights and Civil Wrongs.' He wrote in part:

"While no decent person will defend racial or religious hate, it does not follow that every possible action taken to eliminate tion to a significant decision by school boundary lines and the U.S. Court of Appeals in a racial composition of student bodies, why may they not, by which it was held that pupils in a neighborhood predominant Negro could apply for transfer to a school "whose racial makeup was more in accord with their preferences, irrespective of school boundaries or distances involved."

The New York lawyer continued his comment as follows: "bias." Private property is seized and held by mobs; "sit-in" demonstrations are conducted in the drawing and altering of state capital buildings, city halls, board of education properties and the like. "When bureaucrats not chosen by the people can warn us to obey the 'spirit' of laws or face penalties: when a federal district judge can sit as the absolute overseer of a local community's affairs; when school teachers are muzzled and coerced; when our citizens cease to be free individuals and become merely 'ethnic groups' to be manipulated according to some membership policies, and sociological dictum; when our threats are heard to abolish law and our courts become merely the extensions of the sociologists' workshops; when governments can invade the hearts and minds of men to search out their subtlest motivations and innermost thoughts: when all of these things come to pass in our land of the free, it is high time we ask ourselves the question: where are we headed? The views expressed by Mr. Cummerford are shared by many other lawyers in the north; but are not always articulated. (Copyright 1964)

To Your Good Health Pasteurization Has Prevented Diseases

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: You recent-ly stated that raw milk should never be drunk, that it must always be pasteurized.

I was born and raised in the Middle West, in the 1890's when a pasteurization was unknown. Hundreds of thousands of people then drank raw milk, some right from the cow. Even babies were fed red raw milk (no formulas in those days).

I never heard of one of our cows being tested and I never heard of anyone getting sick. I even bought raw milk in Portland after 1910 and I never got sick. Please answer why and how?

MRS. E. C. A. I'm not saying whether the Portland you mention is in Maine or Oregon. Or for that matter, in one of seven other states.

East or west, it was the same. Many years ago. Sure, people drank raw milk. I did myself — and it was something of a treat to drink milk, still warm from the cow. But it was dangerous.

You couldn't see the germs without a microscope, and it just didn't seem possible that there could be any connection between milk and sickness. Some farmers resented having their cows tested.

Not all cows carried infections. But some did, and the result was bovine tuberculosis, undulant fever and other diseases. People died in considerable numbers as a consequence.

Unpleasant Experiences
We frequently tend to forget many unpleasant experiences trouble with gas. It will not but to remember happy ones. That, indeed, is one of the rea-

Control or prevention of typhoid and other germ-borne diseases is a substantial part of the reason why the average life expectancy is now about 70 years, and in 1850 it was only 40 years.

A Frenchman, Louis Pasteur, discovered and proved the need for pasteurization — killing off bacteria with heat.

He died in 1895, so he didn't live to see the full results of his discoveries. And neither, of course, did people who drank raw milk and happened to get some which carried the disease germs.

Are you sure you don't remember hearing of "anyone getting sick"? I do. But it took a fairly long time for people to be convinced of the truth: That milk, as well as water and food, had to be guarded against carrying disease.

Takes Enema
Dear Dr. Molner: After taking an enema I can't have a normal movements for days so I have to take a laxative. Then I fill up with gas and the only way I can get rid of it is to take another laxative, thus forming a vicious circle.

E.R.C.
That is one of the misundestood things about enemas (which occasionally, of course, cleans out the colon. It takes time for the colon to fill up again, before nature is ready for another movement.

I think you will find that you no NOT "have to take a laxative." Just wait another day or so for your natural rhythm to resume.

By taking a laxative, you irritate the intestinal tract, and it is no wonder that you have many unpleasant experiences trouble with gas. It will not but to remember happy ones. That, indeed, is one of the rea-
